How To Keep Our Liberty

Socialism Moves In On Nation By Installment Plan

By RAYMOND MOLEY
(Third of 12 Articles)

It is certain that socialism by that name and in all its implications will not in the foreseeable future be accepted by the American people. It never has been a popular philosophy in this country. Our danger is that we shall accept, one by one, a series of government interventions until the aggregate of these will be too great for us to resist.

We already see that the essential philosophy of socialism under other names has sharp emphasis in the acts, plans and policies of those who exercise predominant influence in our federal administration, in the presently dominant national political party, in several of our state governments, in an influential part of our press, in unofficial organizations, and in immense organized special interests.

The impairment of constitutional protections and our party system, the immense growth of federal power, the increasing dependence of millions of people upon government bounties and the insidious attack of alien philosophies—all these are evidences of the threat to those republican institutions which collectively have been the shield of our liberty.

The intervention of government in our economic and social life proceeds in what we may roughly call geometric progression. With each new encroachment upon the area of libery, government grows more potent and liberty weaker. Ultimately, an unseen line is crossed and resistance becomes impossible. As a nation, we reach a point of no return.

Let us review a few of the current policies and proposals of the federal government in this light.

The immense growth of the government's concern for welfare is shown by the figures of the Department of Commerce. They show that in the 20 years between 1930 and 1950 payments by federal, state and local governments for direct relief, pensions, insurance, unemployment pay and other items for which no work was performed had increased tenfold.

Multiplication of Politics

This assumption by government of forms of welfare hitherto the province of private agencies has many dangers. A few deserve mention:

1.—The vesting of responsibility for human welfare in government brings politics into the picture. It means the multiplication of the political devices of unfullable promises, half-truths and irrational appeals.

2.—Political "welfare" means the extension of benefits to greater and greater numbers and in greateer amounts. These go beyond the meeting of genuine need and ultimately reach everyone as a matter of "right." A "means test," which is the secure check in privately-administered welfare, is abandoned as "degrading" and antisocial."

3.—The immense cost of distributing benefits according to wants instead of needs can break down any economy. Our economic system can afford to supply what people need. But it never can afford all that people want.

4.—The mounting burden of the welfare state upon the economy is accelerated by a loss in total productivity. There are sharp inducements to older people to abandon productive work for which they are well suited and perfectly capa-

Traffic Crash Proves Fatal To Beloit Man

Ralph Leroy Wyss Victim Of 3-Vehicle Collision Wednesday

Ralph LeRoy Wyss, 43, of RD 2, Beloit, father of five children, died in Alliance City Hospital at midnight Wednesday of injuries received in a three-vehicle traffic mishap which occurred a half-hour earlier on Route 173, between Westville and Beloit.

Stark County Coroner E. B. Mozes ruled that death was caused by a crushed head.

Mahoning County Deputy Sheriff William Campbell who investigated the mishap said that Wyss was driving south on the highway when his car unaccountably sideswiped an approaching car and house trailer operated by Wade L. Davis, 22, of Middletown, N.Y.

The Wyss auto ripped the side out of the house trailer and then smashed headon into a following truck-trailer driven by Albert Weigand, 39, of Canton.

Weigand received a minor laceration of the forehead and bruises but was not treated by a doctor.

Wyss' car was completely demolished and extensive damages were caused to the house trailer and the truck.

Mr. Wyss was born June 10, 1908, near Beloit. A veteran of World War II, he was employed as a bulldozer operator for the Kintz Construction Co. of Alliance for 14 years.

Survivors include his wife, Thelma Parsons Wyss; two daughters, Shirley and Patricia, and three sons, Richard, Daryl and Wayne, all of the home.

He also leaves three brothers; Florian of RD 2, Beloit, and Woodrow and Russell of Alliance; two sisters, Mrs. George Hardy of Homeworth and Mrs. Elgie Boyle of Damascus.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Stark Memorial here, with Rev. George D. Keister, pastor of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, officiating. Interment will be in the North Georgetown cemetery.

Friends may call at the Memorial Friday evening.

Taft Holds 591 Vote Lead Over Ike In S. Dakota

Senator Rolls Up Biggest Margin Among Farm Vote

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio today held a 591-vote lead over Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in South Dakota's bitterly contested Republican primary, with only 16 precincts missing.

Although Taft supporters claimed victory, former Governor George T. Mickelson, who headed the Eisenhower slate of delegates, refused to concede pending the official count of ballots Saturday by the county canvassing boards.

Fourteen delegates are at stake.

The returns with only 16 precincts missing gave:

Taft 64,700.

Eisenhower 64,109.

Polling Books Sealed

Results in at least five of the missing precincts will not be known until the official county canvass Saturday. The election judges sealed the duplicate polling books of four precincts in Perkins County. There the two candidates were running neck-and-neck. Another poll book was sealed with the ballots in a Brookings County precinct—a county which registered heavily for Taft.

Taft supporters early Wednesday claimed a victory after their candidate had doggedly maintained a shaky lead since 10:45 p. m. Tuesday night.

Mickelson contended the narrow Taft margin still left the Taft win in doubt, and because of the closeness of the race that it was an Eisenhower victory in a Taft stronghold, even if the Ohioan did poll four to five hundred more votes.

May Ask Recount

Mickelson refused to say whether he would ask for a recount or contest the bitterly fought primary. He has 10 days in which to demand a recount by petitioning the secretary of state.

The race was the tightest in South Dakota since 1936 when former Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas won the presidential primary over Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho by 257 votes.

Taft supporters said the showing Taft made proved his strength among farmers. His best showing was made in farm districts where there were no large cities or towns. He spent five days campaigning in the state. In his talks he plunked for parity for farm products and favored farm price supports.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee easily won the eight South Dakota Democratic delegates. His supporters polled better than 68 per cent of the nearly 33,000 votes in the Democratic primary. His opposition was an uninstructed slate, headed by State Chairman Ed Downs and National Committeeman Lewis A. Bicknell.

Steel Talks Renewed As Strike Continues

Ike Says Chief Campaign Issue Is World Peace

General For State Handling Of FEPC; Denies Tie To Truman

ABILENE, Kas. (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today the paramount issue of the political campaign is "real peace and security in the world."

The five star general, a candidate for the Republican nomination, said he hopes the country can get out from under "the umbrella of fear and doubt and hysteria" he said now covers the country.

Declaring he intends to "speak out as frankly as I know how" on the issues of the day, Eisenhower added:

1. He hasn't "the slightest idea' whether he can defeat Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP nomination.

2. He would consult Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Asiatic policies if he became president.

3. There is no political connection between him and the Truman administration which would prevent him from attacking the Democratic record.

4. He believes the states primarily should handle the question of creating Fair Employment Practices Commission.

5. He will support the Republican presidential nominee—if he doesn't get the prize himself—on the assumption the GOP platform will be satisfactory.

6. The states can handle education problems better than the federal government.

7. "Our government needs a searching going over" by some one who has had no connection with the Democratic administrations of the last 20 years.

8. Agriculture must not be permitted to suffer but he doesn't know at this time the exact measure of price supports that should be given by the federal government.

9. The Truman administration must take the responsibility for the "tragic loss" of China.

10. He supports a Feb. 6, 1950 declaration by Senate Republicans on foreign and domestic policies.

Eisenhower told an unprecedented press conference in his boyhood hometown he could not have served a man nine years as he did MacArthur without acquiring great respect for his ability and integrity.

Asked if he supported the Truman administration's foreign policy, Eisenhower said he had not been a part of any administration and had not been concerned with but one phase of foreign policy.

He added that he was supported the basic conception of the administration policy as it concerns the safeguarding of Western Europe against Communism.

Eisenhower said he regarded the preservation of peace and security in the world under the fundamental beliefs of this nation as the paramount issue of the campaign.

He said he is going to try to speak out frankly on the issues and that he is "proud" there are

THERE'S NO DOUBT WHO THEY LIKE IN ABILENE—Waving from a hotel balcony, Dwight D. Eisenhower answers the cheers of part of the 75,000 persons who poured into little Abilene, Kan., (pop. 6,000) to welcome him back home as a civilian and candidate for the presidency. Much of the one-hour parade winding through a two-mile route depicted scenes from Ike's life in Abilene.

Industry Heads, Murray Convene At White House

Steel Price Increase, Wage Boost Studied; WSB Powers Trimmed

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House renewed steel peace talks today with the industry idle for a fourth day and Congress studying new strike curbs.

A half dozen top industry leaders and Philip Murray, head of the CIO and the striking Steelworkers Union, were summoned to White House negotiations with John R. Steelman, assistant to President Truman.

Government stabilization officials said they knew of no fresh plan Steelman might have for settling the six-month-old steel dispute. The amount of a steel price increase, as well as of a wage increase, is at issue.

750,000 Men Idle

Nearly 750,000 workers were idled by the strike. These included the 650,000 steel workers, along with almost 10,000 others furloughed in coal mines, railroads, shipping and docks serving steel mills.

The Senate, after voting sharp restrictions on the powers and functions of the Wage Stabilization Board, turned to a proposal by Sen. Maybank (D-SC) to end big strikes.

Maybanks plan, opposed by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and other legislators influential in framing labor laws, calls for a 120-day ban on strikes in defense-important industries, settlement recommendations from a nwe seven-man board, and industry seizure if the board's terms are rejected.

Conceded Bill Unpopular

Maybank conceded his proposal probably would be disliked by management as well as labor unions, but said it was his own idea of what should be done to stop crucial strikes.

A Senate group led by Sen. Monroney, (D-Okla), objected to seizure phases of Maybank's plan which would allow private owners to receive "just compensation" during the period of government operation while banning any changes in wages or working conditions.

Monroney said his group would

Four Injured In Traffic Mishaps

Truck Hits Rear Of Car; Cyclist Struck

Four persons were hospitalized as the result of two traffic mishaps investigated by State Highway Patrolmen Wednesday morning.

A truck-trailer operated by Oliver Hurst, 39, of Lancaster, Pa. smashed into the rear of a car driven by Kyriaks Markopoulos, 57, of Warren at 9:45 a.m. on Route 165, one mile south of New Springfield.

Mrs. Kyriakos Markopoulos, 55, sustained a possible fractured hip and ribs; Mrs. Steve Kostiou, 40, received abrasions of the left knee and chest contusions and Mrs. George Geroges, 48, sustained a possible fractured hip.

The women, all from Warren and passengers in the auto, were admitted to Salem City Hospital where Mrs. Kostiou is in good condition and the other two in "fairly good" condition today.

A motorcycle driven by George Becker, 47, of Detroit was struck by a car operated by Ralph Wilcox, 23, of Alliance at 12:50 a.m. on Route 224, three miles east of Deerfield.

Becker sustained body contusions and lacerations and a possible fractured hip and was taken to Alliance City Hospital. Patrolmen said that the mishap occurred when Becker, driving east, attempted to make a turn in front of the approaching auto.

Salem Schools Close Friday

Seniors To Attend Graduation Tonight

Approximately 2,800 Salem school children will begin a three-month vacation period Saturday following issuance of final report cards Friday afternoon.

Superintendent of Schools E. S. Kerr said today that school children will return for their final grades at 1:15 p.m. Friday and have a long recess before returning to classes again about Sept. 3.

Better than 250 student from Junior High School, St. Paul School and the United Local School district will join to make up next year's freshmen class at Salem High School.

Commencement exercises will be held for 159 graduates at 8:15 tonight at Reilly Stadium if the weather permits. However, should rain prevail, the exercises will be held at the high school auditorium.

Tickets for the outdoor exercises will be sold at the gates but no sales will be made at the high school since parents and friends of the graduates would fill the auditorium to capacity.

Dorothy Pozniko and Darrell Askey, first honor graduate and class president, respectively, will deliver speeches at the exercises. Miss Pozniko's topic will be, "A Symphony of Memories," while Askey will speak of "Our Place in Life." The speakers were chosen by their classmates.

The Dukes of Salem are holding their third annual commencement dance for upperclassmen following the commencement program. The dance will be from 10 p.m. until 1 a.m. at the Masonic Temple with Paul Kuhns' orchestra providing the music.

The annual Alumni banquet and dance will be held at 6:30 Friday in honor of the 1952 graduates. Scholarship award winners will be announced at the banquet.

Lisbon Fair To Open

LISBON—The annual American Legion street fair will open here tonight as Fallon's Rides of Akron started erecting concession stands and rides on the square at South Market St. The fair will continue through Saturday.

Dan-Dee Head, 3 Others, Die In Auto Crash

MASSILLON, O. (AP)—Four persons—one of them the head of the Dan-Dee Pretzel & Potato Chip Co. in Cleveland—lost their lives in a headon automobile collision near here Wednesday.

Victims of the crash four miles north of Massillon on U. S. Rt. 21 were Charles V. Pike, 60, president of the company, his wife, Cora, 59, Mrs. Edith Dezort, 51, of Cleveland, and Warren Minks, 47, of Canal Fulton, O.

The Pikes and Mrs. Dezort were in one car, returning from a trip to South Carolina. Minks, an Akron factory worker, was driving the other vehicle.

State Highway Patrolmen said the crash occurred on a slight curve and that there were no witnesses.

MOUNT ALUMNI TO MEET

Airliner Pilot Averts Tragedy, Swerves Plane From Collision

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The pilot of a twin-engine unscheduled airliner averted a tragedy last night by putting his big plane into a sudden, jarring sideslip to keep from crashing into two smaller airplanes near Pittsburgh.

All of the estimated 30 passengers aboard suffered bruises as they were tumbled about as if in a crazy house at a carnival.

To cap his performance, Capt. Henry Glaser, the pilot, set his ship down smoothly on an unlighted airport here.

Dr. Arthur O'Keefe of Boston, a passenger, administered first aid and sent eight of his flight companions to the hospital. Four were detained. They are:

Helen Hatfield, 21, of Winterhaven, Fla., hostess; Mrs. Freda Norton of Long Beeach, Calif., Harold C. Walton of Bloomfield, N. J; and Mrs. Ella A. Baity, 21, Chicago.

Harry Swanberg, 24, of Duluth, Minn, described the near tragedy this way:

"People were thrown from their seats into the aisle and the baggage came toppling down on top of us. It was like being in a crazy house at a carnival."

Glaser said he was at about 4,000 feet altitude when he saw several smaller craft. When a crash with two appeared imminent, he said he put his plane into the violent maneuver.

Seconds later he set the plane down on the unlighted Allegheny County Airport. Virtually abandoned only last Tuesday.

The pilot said the planes he missed apparently were military craft but added he was not really certain.

Soap Box Derby Headgears Arrive For 46 Contestants

Official Soap Box Derby headgears have arrived in Salem and each derby contestant will be given his when he reports for racer inspection, Eugene Owens, track director, has announced.

Boys competing in the derby, set for Sunday, June 22, will keep their headgears as part of their prize. In addition each boy will be given an all-expense paid trip to the National Soap Box Derby in Akron Aug. 10.

Winner of the Salem race, to be held on Damascus Rd., Blackburn Hill, will represent the city in the national derby. Forty-six boys have registered to compete.

In addition to the trip, prizes for the Salem derby include a new bicycle and a war bond. The Chamber of Commerce is collecting additional prizes.

A meeting of the Soap Box Derby committees and the ten derby directors will be held in the Junior Chamber of Commerce Club room at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday to discuss last-minute plans for the race and the parade which will precede it.

Trial runs for the derby will be held Sunday, June 15, at 2 p.m. on Arch St. Inspection of racers is set for Friday and Saturday, June 20 and 21, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Memorial Building.

The Salem race is co-sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Chevrolet Motor Co., with other Salem civic clubs assisting in the work.

Boys, ages 11 through 15, who still wish to enter the race, should register immediately at Parker Chevrolet Co., so that they may have time to complete their racers the derby committee urges. Sponsors are still available to help boys meet the cost of the racers. When registering the boys must be accompanied by a parent.

Prizes in the National Soap Box Dery, in which the Salem winner will be one of about 159 contestants, include a new automobile and a four-year college scholarship.

GI's Views On The Far East

Passiveness Of Home Front Confuses Soldiers In Korea

By GLENN HOFFER
Fourth Of A Series

There is nothing so discouraging to the American soldier in Korea as the feeling that the people of his country have deserted him. He isn't looking for pity. But he does expect the home front to lend him a hand against Communist aggression.

Sometimes it is difficult to believe that he has the whole-hearted support of those at home. He picks up a copy of "Stars and Stripes" and finds that the nation is ill with the effects of industrial disputes. He reads of corruption in the government of the country he is fighting for. He attempts to escape this mess by turning to the sports page, but is confronted by scandals even there.

All through the paper, it's the same old story. People, confused and frightened by the future, are trying to make all the money possible while they can. Finally, he throws the paper aside in disgust and tramps over to his bunker to prepare for another patrol.

OF COURSE, GI JOE knows there will be no monetary profit for risking his life on patrol tonight.

GI Joe's platoon leader sometimes marvels at the way his men manage to keep their morale flying high. He knows that mail from home or a five-day rest in Japan are extremely helpful. But he also realizes that the lengthy peace conference at Panmunjom has been disappointing to his men, that the half-hearted cooperation of so many people at home has created much resentment.

Even the mail does not always promote good morale. More than once, the platoon leader's men come to him with problems from home. The wife of a man in his machine gun crew had threatened divorce in her last letter. There was nothing to say to the kid who had waited futilely for two weeks for a letter except, "Keep yur chin up, kid. You have plenty of friends in this platoon."

But these are exceptions. The platoon leader admits that most opeple back home write often. Hc remembers one man getting close to 40 letters in one day. He is grateful to these people and to those organizations who have not forgotten his men. After all, morale is a primary prerequisite for efficiency in any fighting unit.

IT'S A BIG DAY when GI Joe gets called "off the hill" for a five-day rest in Japan. This may happen to the individual every four to seven months. The Air Force prvides transportation to one of three cities—Tokyo, Osaka of Kokura.

Once he has gone through one of the R. & R. (rest and recuperation) centers in Japan he is free to go almost anywhere he pleases. To most GIs coming from Korea, the peacefulness of Japan is heaven for it offers a temporary escape from war.

Rotation holds priority in the dreams of every GI, for this means a one-way ticket back to the States. Some of the more fortunate GIs spend only a couple of months in Korea. Others have stayed close to two years.

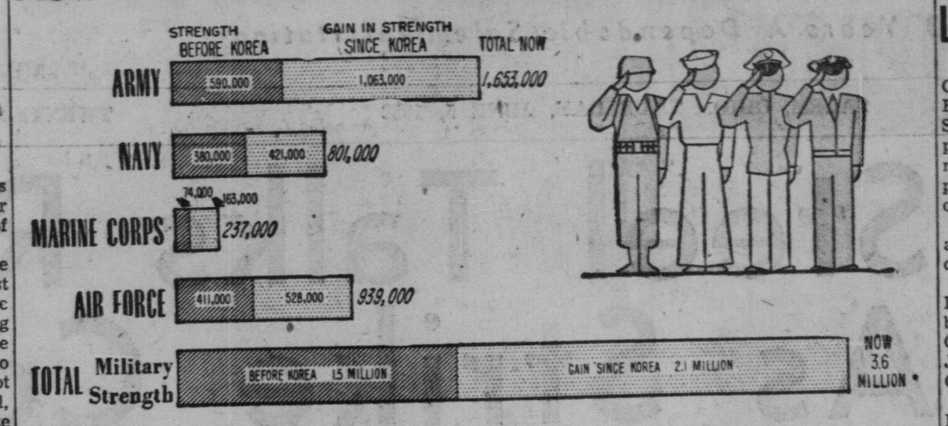
THERE'S AN OLD SAYING among the men that when you carry on a lengthy conversation with Koreans in their own language then it is time to rotate.

A wonderful feeling of exultation overcomes GI Joe when he sets foot in the States. But once this has passed, his eyes and ears again take in reality He is schocked at how unconcerned so many people are about what is happening in Korea. A war? Where? Too bad.

Perhaps, he thinks, this is just what the Reds are striving for. The real danger may not be in Korea, but right here in our own country. The weapons—greed, suspicion and unconcern for each other.

How Armed Forces Have Grown Since Korea



THIS CHART just released by the U. S. Defense department compares number of personnel of the armed forces as of Feb. 29, 1952, and before start of the Korean war. The war is almost two years old now.

Youth, 13, Stopped In 3rd Try To Join Army

FERNDALE, Md., (AP) — Johnny Arzoomanian, the eight grader from New York's Bronx, is back under watchful eyes again after his third attempt to join the army or, failing that, slip aboard a ship bound for Korea.

The 13-year-old youth was picked up yesterday afternoon on U.S Route 301 headed south toward another port after not being able to board a ship in Baltimore. He had left home Monday night.

"I'll do anything to get into the Army except wait," he said while police waited for word from his home. "I'll do the same thing again."

An old English law stated that the truth of a statement made it none the less libelous. In fact, its being true was an "aggravation of the crime."

Walter Wanger Begins Sentence For Shooting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Producer Walter Wanger has begun serving a four-month sentence for the jealousy shooting of Jennings Lang, agent for his screen star wife, Joan Bennett.

Grim and tight-lipped, the 57-year-old moviemaker surrendered last night at county jail. He turned a deaf ear to newsmen's queries about a possible reconciliation with Miss Bennett. The two have been estranged since the shooting last Dec. 13.

Wanger was convicted of shooting Lang in the groin in a Beverly Hills parking lot. He accused the agent, now recovered of stealing his wife's love.

Our Liberty

ble. There is also the growing number of bureaucrats to administer aid—people who are thus withdrawn from productive work.

5.—The moral danger of dependence has been apparent to welfare workers for centuries. The wisest welfare leader I ever knew incessantly warned his staff that "charity is a narcotic; beneficial in an emergency, deadly as a habit." T e delicate application of aid, if guided by this fact, cannot be expected of a great bureaucracy directed from Washington, especially when it is imprgnated with the inevitable taint of politics.

Welfare Pressure Increases

Despite these dangers, there is constant pressure to thrust the federal government further into welfare activities. The federal system is neither fair nor financially sound.

Next, there is the proposal for a national program of "health insurance," which is in reality government or "socialized" medicine.

Ultimately, under the proposed system, to keep costs within the scope of general tax receipts, iron regulations would be imposed. The modicum of liberty for practitioners and patients would be eliminated and regimentation by government would prevail.

In short, this plan involves an immense and vital extension of goverment intervention and a consequent invasion of liberty.

The relation between the federal government and the states suggests the aphorism of robbing Peter to pay Paul. In this case, however, Peter and Paul happen to be identical.

To attain domination over the states, the federal leviathan first must seize the sources of state and local revenue—revenue that is the life blood of government. The extent of this seizure already has been most alarming.

The Hoover Commission's task force on federal-state relations points out that in 1890 the federal government spent 36.2 per cent of all governmental outlays in the nation. In 1946, it spent 85.2 per cent.

This money is not made in Washington. It comes from the states. The sources from which states have drawn their own revenue have been taken by the federal suction pump. Almost every productive source of taxation, except the property tab, has been lost to most of the states.

Federal power has grown immensely through grants-in-aid to the states. Through such grants, the federal government now influences or controls 75 per cent of state activities.

Under the pretext of successive crisis—the depression, the war and the cold war—the size and variety of these grants have grown at a tremendous rate. Fifty years ago only $3,00,00 was paid out of federal funds to the states. Under President Truman's administration these grants have risen until in 1950 the sum was nearly $2,234,70,-000.

Where money goes the bureaucrat follows. Money means power. And power begets control.

This trend, if continued, ultimate ly will erase local self-government and reduce the states to the status of mere agents of provinces of the federal government. The balanced system created by the Constitution will be gone and national socialism will have eliminated its most formidable barrier.

If the proposal of the Truman administration known as the Brannan Plan has served no other useful purpose, it has brought thinking people to a realization that, unless some method is found to restore agriculture to a permanently self-sustaining basis, there is nothing ahead for the American farmer but well-kept serfdom under an all-powerful government.

The Brannan Plan, with all its socialistic implications, has become the warning and the threat of the future.

In the many economic enterprises other than agriculture, the federal government has moved well past mere regulation and into competition—direct and indirect—at a rapidly increasing rate in the past two decades.

This, of course, is not merely a threat or promise of socialism. It is socialism growing by progressive steps, under the pressure of persons and organizations whose purposes and point of view are for the most part antagonistic to the ideal of the free market or who frankly do not believe that any important part of a free economic system can survive.

The second of the means specified by Marx and Engels in the Communist Manifesto to bring about a socialist society was the use of taxation on incomes and inheritances.

Nothing in our Constitution prevents such expropriation under the power to tax incomes and inheritances. Thus, the jealous regard for the rights of property in some of the provisions of the Constitution is nullified by the simple terms of the 16th Amendment.

Of course, it was assumed that this great power could be vested safely in Congress. That, however, was not the assumption of the framers of the Constitution, who wisely sought to check all government, including Congress. Nor was it the assumption of John Marshall, who wrote the classic warning "the power to tax involves the power to destroy."

Socialism finds its second great means of expropriation the ways available to government to stimulate inflation. The plain fact is that generally in the Roosevelt and throughout the Truman administration there has been deliberately planned and stimulated inflation.

For 2 County Roads Bridges Ordered

County Engineer Charles Snyder announced two bridges have been ordered from the American Culvert Co. of Cambridge to replace spans on the Logtown Rd. and the Furnace Rd.

Purchase of the bridges was autorized by county commissioners earlier this week to replace spans erected about 1896.

One bridge 71-feet long costing $7,380 will replace a span on the Logtown Rd. near the Boy Scout Camp while the other will be 28-feet long and cost $2,016. It is on the Furnace Rd. about 1,000 feet west of the bridge on the Logtown Rd.

Snyder said the bridges will be steel-beamed with wood planking. He said the bases for the old bridges are in good shape and will be used.

The roads have been suggested as a possible detour when construction starts on the Canton Bridge but commissioners said they had planned to replace the spans anyway.

Church Confessor Of Bank Robbery Freed

HOLTON, Kan. (AP)—Bank robbery charges have been dismissed against Albert Johnson, 23, who stood in the pulpit of a Topeka, Kan., church May 4 and confessed participation in a holdup.

The $835 robbery of the bank at Hoyt, Kan., occurred four years ago. District Judge Robert H. Kaul dismissed the charges against Johnson under a Kansas law requiring prosecution within two years of an offense.

At the time of his public confession, Johnson said he had been directed by God to give himself up so he could "warn younger kids to avoid the fate that befell me." He expressed a desire to become a minister.

Close One

The high hopes of the Taft and Eisenhower camps for a lopsided victory in South Dakota were too high, as it turned out. But Sen. Taft's narrow margin in Tuesday's voting does give him the state's delegation to the Republican convention, which was one of the two prizes sought.

The other prize would have been a smashing victory in the last of the direct primary contests and the only contest in which Taft and Eisenhower were running a two-man race, with no intereference from stalking horses and also-rans.

That would have been a useful lever of persuasion to pry fence-sitting delegates loose from their eqquivocal positions. It goes without saying that it would have been as useful to Eisenhower as it would have been to Taft.

The South Dakota outcome tells the story of the Taft-Eisenhower race as of June. It is as significant in June as the New Hampshire primary result was in March.

Since March, when Eisenhower swept the Republican Party in New Hampshire, the race between him and Taft has settled down to a neck-and-neck contest. Neither man has been able to pull away from the other, though Taft holds a slight advantage in pledged delegates.

That is the way they will go into the convention early next month. It is going to be a close one.

A World Of Difference

There will be a settlement of the steel strike. Barring the possibility of legal hocus-pocus to drag the government back into the fracas, the settlement will be reached between negotiators for the union and the steel companies.

It will be a reasonable facsimile of collective bargaining, though not the real thing. That must wait a while longer.

It cannot be restored until the Office of Price Stabilization has faded out of the picture and the Wage Stabilization Board has ceased to be the last word on settlements of industrial disputes.

As long as President Murray of United Steelworkers insists on the letter of the WSB recommendations and Vice President Stephens of U. S. Steel Corp., speaking for management, insists on restoration of free bargaining, the strike probably will continue. There can be no free bargaining under those circumstances. There is a world of difference.

The upshot of the steel fiasco which has dragged on since late last year and caused a constitutional crisis, besides depressing business, is a conviction that government intervention is a pain in the neck for employers, employes and the public they serve.

Whether the intervention takes the form of mild meddling or heavy-handed seizure, it has the same effect. It substitutes government for free enterprise. It substitutes politics for economics. And it substitutes government fumbling for clean-out decisions.

Two sets of directives issued by executive agencies have met headon in the steel case—the OPS directive on steel prices and the WSB directive on steel wages. The latter, incidentally, never was more than a recommendation but was construed as a directive by United Steelworkers.

If steel employes and steel managers had been on their own from the beginning, with no bureaucrats breathing down their necks, their dispute would have been cleared up before Christmas. As it was, both sides had to wait to see what the bureaucrats would do next—and one side, it now seems pretty clear, was waiting for the bureaucrats to seize the other and force a settlement down its throat—the antic outlawed by Judge Pine and the Supreme Court.

Better Than Law

The same kind of reaction from bad public relations which caused Congress to pass the Taft-Hartley Act can cause it to legislate again in the field of industrial disputes.

There has been discussion in Washington this spring of ways and means of curbing the actions of labor organizations which bear significant resemblance to monopolies. Though no legislation is forthcoming in this session of Congress, further actions of the same kind would invite attempts to try a legislative remedy in 1953.

There is something that would be far better than law. It would have been far better than law if it had been used half a century ago when the excesses of business monopolies produced anti-trust legislation.

It would be the exercise of restraint by those whose possession of economic power prompts them to abuse it. Law is not a remedy. More frequently than not, it fails to be even a good substitute for self-restraint.

Every intelligent labor leader knows what every intelligent employer of labor knows—that the best industrial relations are based on mutual consideration. When government is invited to intercede, the parties chiefly involved in industrial relations end up sooner or later bickering with the intercessors.

'Local War'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

That's How British View Korean Conflict

Discussions here with members of the government as well as the opposition reveal clearly why there has been such a divergence of opinion between the United States and Great Britain over Far Eastern questions.

There is a total unawareness here of the motivating influences which have caused the American people to feel so deeply about the sacrifices made by American troops in Korea. To the British reader, Korea is just an incident. It is even less than a "police action" in the sense that other troubles in the world are considered to be far more important.

The British are more concerned over what has happened in Malaya and over the danger spots in Iran, Egypt and North Africa.

"We have been fighting the local wars for centuries," said one British editor, "and we are used to the fact that you cannot always win them. But you Americans are anparently discovering for the first time that you can't win a war when it is sometimes expedient not to do so."

When reminded of the sacrifices being made by Americans in the Far East, there is, of course, deep sympathy and expressions of admiration for the bravery of our troops. But at the same time there is a tendency to argue that a "limited war" is all that can be expected no matter what course the truce talks take. If Britons are asked why intervention in Korea was approved in the first place when the risks of a large-scale war were even greater then than they are today, there is no clear answer given except that it was important to "halt aggression." Yet when it is pointed out that aggression hasn't really been halted, the reply usually is made that it was a good attempt anyway.

Talking with some of the leaders about the problem of Red China, it seems to be taken for granted that the British government in due time not only will reaffirm its position in respect ot diplomatic recognition of the Communist government, but will some day argue for the admission of Red China into the United Nations.

At the moment it is regarded by Britons as indiscreet to say much about this, but there can be no question about the ultimate intention of Britain to bring Red China into the United Nations. If it is suggested that this is "rewarding the aggressor," there is a shrug of the shoulders and a comment that "well, there are lots of unpleasant things that have to be done in the world when you are dealing with Russia."

Bssically it is a peace-at-any-price sentiment. It runs through both political parties here. It is understandable, of course, in a way because Britain was bombed regularly for several years during World War II and, while the British will fight valiantly in the future as they have in the past, they may actually wait for an attack on their own territory before they give their consent to anything resembling a large-scale war.

Perhaps one of the most disconcerting aspects of British foreign policy is the tendency to water down every action which tends to show firmness on the Allied side. The other day, when there was talk in the United States about a possible naval blockade in the event that the truce talks in Korea broke down, the Laborites were quick to interrogate the Conservative government. The foreign secretary promptly said there was no commitment. This was like telegraphing to the enemy that they need not worry about alternative measures. If the truce talks break down, it would appear there won't be any fuss raised abut it anyway. When confronted with the implication of that kind of tactics, the British say, "well, it is important to answer the questions of the Laborites in Parliament."

The insularity of this approach and the indifference to the consequences throughout the world of a British public statement is something that is incomprehensible to anyone who has been schooled to believe that there is a universal alliance today of free nations that they are working in harmony, and that their troops are fighting side by side against Soviet imperialism.

Incidentally, a "left wing" leader told this writer he couldn't understand why in the eyes of the United States there was such a prejudice against Communism when, after all, it was just a philosophy of life. Immediately upon being advised that the real antipathy in America is against Communist imperialism, the question was asked, "where has there been evidence of it?" The "left wing" echoes the cry that the Chinese Communists are merely retaliating against American aid to Formosa.

Plainly, there is a wide divergence from the American point of view in connection with the Far East. The gap can be illustrated in the suggestion made to this correspondent by one "left wing" leader to the effect that the united States should conclude a truce by offering to withdraw its aid from Formosa and turn the island over to the Red Chinese.

Upon being reminded that this was merely appeasing the enemy and buying peace at the expense of principle, that it was in effect rewarding the aggressor with the Formosan territory, the reply was made that some time ago a pledge had been given by the United would be returned to China. In other words, the argument gets technical, and there is little thought given to the fact that 500,000 American boys have faced the firing line in the Far East, that more than 100,000 of them have been killed or wounded, and that the draft is still calling between 30,000 and 40,000 Americans every month.

It is certainly a paradox in the relationships of allies.

Learning By Experience

By TRUMAN TWILL

The death of John Dewey, the philosopher, at the advanced age of 92, will leave practically no one unmoved by either regret of rejoicing. That is true of all philosophers. They are rough-and-tumble fighters in the battle fo idea and may be judged by the enemies they make as well as the friends they keep.

Dr. Dewey stirred up the animals in the field of instruction, in which he led the revolt called progressive education. His "new pedagogy" but millions of Americans at one another's throats. The fight is still raging in some of the bypassed islands.

Part of the trouble was caused, as it always is when a new idea is applied to an old problem, by inability to understand what Dewey was talking about.

He was trying to say that experience is the best teacher; that since the aim of education is to equip human beings to live they should learn by living. Dewey estimated early in the century—accurately as it turned out—that physical science was going to outdistance men's ability to harness this new knowledge for their own advancement.

He was afraid they would outwit themselves with their own ingenuity, unless they learned how to use the results; that they would be like children playing with dynamite caps. In fact, Dewey figured that America's chaotic adolescence was going to be a prime headache unless men grew up in a hurry.

He figured right.

Inevitably, his credo fell into unskilled hands and half-baked minds. Some of these made a farce of progressive education. That was where the professor made a mistake. He could see the danger of damage in other fields if people got hold of ideas they didn't know how to use, but failed to see the danger in his own field of pedagogy.

He was not sufficiently afraid of chaotic adolescence in the field of education. Or if he saw trouble coming and took a philosophical attitude about taking the good with the bad, he ended up by being grossly misrepresented and misunderstood.

The batttle was on, and it's still raging. But long before his death, Dewey could be sure that he had accomplished what he set out to accomplish. Pupils in modern schools do learn by doing; every facet of their education is calculated to equip them for life, no matter how inadequate some of the equipment still proves to be.

The old man who started all this is out of the wars now, but his ideas will be around a long time. He started something—education to train people for life in an industralized society of equals. When people finally reach the point of education at which they will be able to spot the difference between what is practicable and what isn't, through a demagogic fog with an accompaniment of fog-horn oratory, they will have John Dewey to thank for steering pedagogy in the direction it needed to go. Maybe it will arrive at its destination it another century.

SIDE GLANCES By Galbraith

"Your main job will be to keep your eye on the employes and see that they concentrate on their work!"

Battle of Bunko Hill

The Voice of America

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Senator Pat McCarran addressed a question to the Secretary of State on the subject of the propaganda this country is doing among the enemy, both as to the nature of the material and the media employed. The State Department answered and a document has been issued.

George E. Sokolsky

Frankly, it is all puzzling as to what effect, if any, our propaganda is having upon those countries to which it is being beamed. Senator McCarran writes in his introduction:

". . . . In Russia we ought constantly to remind the masses of the people of their long struggle for freedom and justice. We should quote to them not from our Washington and Lincoln and Jefferson, but from their Herzon and Turgeniev and Gorki. We should hold up as heroes and models the really idealistic leaders of the pre-Soviet era who fought against tyranny and injustice — thus we would be appealing to a national tradition of revolt against despots."

I AM NOT so sure that Senator McCarran's answer is better than the State Department's. The incitement to revolution is always intellectual and spiritual. No great revolution in history is a response to hunger, to the deprivation of material advantages. The explosion always is a product of the insistence of young minds for greater freedom of expression. Would a French revolution have occurred without the preparation of the minds of young men by Rousseau, Voltaire and the encyclopedists?

I personally saw and heard most of the founders of the Russian revolution. On one occasion, I saw most of them in one room. These were no peasants and workers. They were intellectuals. Lenin, Trotzky, Tseretelli, Chernov, Kerensky, Plekhanov, Kollontal, of whatever party, they were intellectuals, concerned with the intricacies of the human spirit.

Wherever the Communists have established themselves they have devoted themselves to the task of changing the minds of men, of rewriting their philosophy of life. In each country after they take control, they have made Christianity their target—a hateful target to be destroyed and obliterated from the memory of man.

Why have they done this? It is no accident that they do not delay their war on Christianity and Judaism. They set that target because freedom, the liberty of the individual man, the basic doctrine of the Old and New Testaments, menaces their concept of the control of man in the interest of the State dominated by a self-perpetuating intellectual elite.

MAO TZE-TUNG in China goes the way of Stalin. He is not a peasant, although he often poses as one. I recall him back in 1918 or 1919 at the Peking National University as a student of philosophy under Dr. Hu Shih, whom he now denounces as a reactionary.

As I read what the State Department offers these countries as American propaganda, I am sure that it cannot succeed because it it too low-brow. It lacks philosophic content. If we dare not speak of God, of natural law, as the foundation of our politics and economics and social institutions, we actually have nothing to say that is important.

Measuring this pragmatically, we have not been successful in developing a vocal, articulate pro-American element in any Soviet country, whereas Soviet Russia has succeeded in building an effective pro-Russian force in every free country, including the United States.

To this task, we have devoted billions of dollars and have no evidence of a ripple on the surface. Senator Pat McCarran wisely asks questions, but what is really needed is an understanding of why we have failed.

LOOK AT this excerpt from something called "Shirttail No. 197":

"Just how much is forty-two and a half thousand million dollars—the amount spent by the United States in foreign aid programs since the end of World War II?

"For one thing, it is equal to $28 for every man, woman and child in the country...

"And thus, as you see, Americans are taking their relations with the rest of the world seriously. They have been sending abroad a week's pay a year—or the equivalent of what that will buy—for every American man, woman, and child."

Certainly this does not tell an Asiatic anything important. An Asiatic wants to know what an American believes about man's relations to man, not that each sends $283 abroad.

History of Recorded Sound

The Year 1952 marks the 75th anniversary of Edison's invention of the phonograph, notes the National Georgraphic Society. At the same time a spectacular medium of sound recording is coming of age—the magnetic tape.

Plastic or paper tapes coated with magnetic iron oxides—highly refined rust—now make master copies for nearly all new phonograph records and motion picture sound tracks. Tape records press conferences, takes office dictation, preserves battle orders in Korea, gives telephone weather forecasts and operates automatic machinery and electronic computers.

From Edison's first tinfoil-covered cylinder croaking "Mary had a little lamb," to a newly invented machine which can turn out hundreds of magnetic tape duplicates without losing a syllable or musical note, three-quarters of a century of engineering wizardry has made recorded sound today virtually indistinguishable from the original.

Alexander Graham Bell, father of the telephone, led his Volta Laboratory associates to the invention of wax records and the first flat disk. In 1886, Bell received patents for a system of "Reproducing Sounds from Phonograph Records" and another for "Transmitting and Recording Sounds by Radiant Energy."

Meanwhile, Emile Berliner, an early associate of Bell's discovered the advantage of side-to-side rather than up-and-down engraving of the record groove. He invented the modern systerm of duplicating records. His "Gramophone," patented in 1887, was later purchased by the young Victor Talking Machine Co.

Disk records have evolved today into the slow-turning, microgroove "lp" records. So true is their fidelity, in relation to the human ear, that the major recording companies are now reissuing their musical libraries on the new plastic disks.

While Edison, Bell and Berliner were pioneering in this country, a young Danish engineer named Valdemar Poulsen was developing a machine which could catch and reproduce sound with a magnetized steel wire. At the Paris Exposition in 1900, Poulsen's crude wirewinding "Tlegraphone" won the Grand Prix.

The electronic amplifying tube had not yet been invented, however. Both mechanical and magnetic recorders had to wait until the 1920's and early 1930's for the dawn of the modern age of "electroacoustics."

Germany gave magnetic recording its second major impetus. Gestapo telephone-tapping required thousands of portable recorders. Wire and various types of tape were used.

On the heels of V-J Day, American engineers quickly improved on the German wartime tapes.

Late in 1951, Dr. Rawdon Smith, Washington, D. C. physicist, demonstrated to the recording industry a machine which can make unlimited numbers of copies equal or superior to the master tape. The invention, developed jointly with a Chicago engineer, L. S. Toogood, is called "Multitape."

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

"Sweet Abilene!"

Abilene, the town that sounds like a song title, will, on June 4th, have every big city in the land in a total eclipse. There isn't a candidate who wouldn't gladly swap it for every advantage he may currently have in the race for the presidency. Eisenhower officially enters the campaign picture there on the above date and it will be the show of the year. From 60,000 to 100,000 visitors are expected in the old cow town of 5,000 population. Millions will attend by radio and video. It may be the first case of an entire community becoming an animated Ike button.

Americans are pushovers for the small-town mood. Even the big city boys are moved by it. And Abilene will ooze the homespun, cracker barrel, country store, village green, town bandstand, homemade chicken pie atmosphere. It will have the barefoot-boy, Little-Orphan Annie, old-swimmin'-hole, Huckleberry-Finn, two-chair barber-shop, kerosene-lamp, iron-stove, horse-and-buggy motif and America will eat it up. All die-hard Democrats are going to have a terrible 24 hours. And the opponents of Ike for the presidency are going to be extra miserable. If they are smart they will dodge the video and radio that day and get lost for their own peace of mind.

Everybody in Abilene and for miles around is now going all out with preparations for the occasion and every home is busy with a plan to rent a room, turn out box luncheons and take part in the square dancing, general hoopla and the fun of president-making in a real carnival manner, not excluding the peanuts and pink lemonade. It could very well wind up with Ike doing a trapeze act on the village green and the other Eisenhower brothers traversing a tightwire on bicycles. The whole thing will have the wonderful mood of America away back when people were doing things for themselves and before all the experimenting, taking apart and general dictating began. In Abilene the country will catch the picture of an America untampered with, self-dependent, proud of traditions and not afraid of being only half out of its working clothes when the 4 o'clock whistle blows.

For a few hours a small town will get a glorification by press, radio and television such as no town has ever had . . . The old homestead, the aroma of old-fashioned cooking, the clinking of horseshoes against a wooden post, the village band playing Sousa marches badly, the fife-and-drum corps doing its darnedest . . . and everything swelling into a preview of a presidential campaign by an extra-colorful American. Oh, yes, it's on the program as merely a dedication of a museum. But it can turn into the opening of a national waxworks in which a lot of candidates for the White House will wind up. What is so rare as a day in June? Don't ask a Democrat, bub!

Estes Kefauver in that photograph in a coonskin cap with Indian feathers on top makes it a fair question whether he is running for the White House or the Milton Berle program . . . A big video advertising drive to popularize the cigar is under way . . . The first step may be to develop a stogie that can drill and march . . . With a jingle, "Feel rooty-tooty; Go cherooty!" . . . Whitaker Chambers' book makes Ima Dodo so nervous she won't turn over a page until she first gets somebody to look under the leaf for spies . . . That much discussed "wordless film" is being photographed in Washington, of all places! . . . Roy Campanella is extra good on television appearances . . . Where has John McCullough, Talent Scout winner, been all these years? . . . What a singer he is! . . . "Moscow Reported Planning Big Race Track"—headline . . . Upside Down, of course . . . Further possibilities in a world of screwball situations, "I am a prisoner of war and I demand your surrender." . . . Judge Samuel I. Rosenman in his new book says he originated the term "New Deal." . . . Says that at three in the morning, with the voting still on, he took some hot dogs and coffee and put the term in the acceptance speech . . . The influence of the hot dog on American life is greater than we ever thought.

Willis Hole, Now 85, Recalls Graduation Here 66 Years Ago

By PEARL WALKER

Try to think 66 years ahead! Makes you dizzy, because we are living in a world reeling with rapid changes. But to look back on 66 years it seems only a little while, says Willis R. Hole, 85, of 437 W. Fourth St., who graduated from Salem High School with the Class of 1886.

There were two boys and seven girls in the Class of '86. The other boy was Justine White, whose last known address was Massillon. He was the second Negro to graduate from Salem High. The first one was Felix Williams.

Girls in the class included Mary Ann Wetmore, Cora Stouffer Schwartz, Carrie Walton McIntyre, Effie Donald Hunt, Mary Watson Cornell, Ada Burford and Esther Boone Chadbourne. Most of them are deceased.

The late Mrs. Chadbourne taught music in the Salem schools at one time; the late Mrs. Schwartz was the mother of Dr. Rollin Schwartz of Cleveland and sang in the Christian Church choir for many years, and the late Mrs. Hunt was the mother of Nathan Hunt, Miami, Fla., industrialist, formerly of Salem.

Held in Concert Hall

Mr. Hole recalls that the commencement exercises were held in old Concert Hall. The building, one of the city's landmarks, was on the site of the present First National Bank, E. State St. and S. Broadway. All the graduates gave orations.

Because he was interested in cowboys, the "wild and woolly west" and animals in general, Mr. Hole chose "Cattle Kings" for his theme. It was the custom to "pelt" the graduates witth flowers, instead of handing them bouquets.

Starting to school in a building located at N. Broadway and E. Second St., now a part of the Central Clinic, Mr. Hole finished four grades there. The Clinic building was abandoned as a school in 1880. Later he went to Columbia Street School and completed his high school course in the first high school building on E. Fourth St., which was commenced in 1860. The second high school building, which now houses the Fourth Street School and Junior High (it was on the same site), was dedicated in 1897.

After graduation, Mr. Hole worked as a clerk in the postoffice, then located on the west side of S. Broadway, a few doors north of E. Pershing St. The late Frank Webster was postmaster. Employes, two clerks, were not under Civil Service and the postmaster had the authority to hire or fire. There were no deliveries and the postoffice was jammed at mail time, each person anxious to be served first. The hours were long during the week and the office was also open a couple of hours on Sunday. He was paid one dollar a day.

For more than 30 years he was a mail clerk on the Pittsburgh, Lisbon & Western Railroad, operating between New Galilee, Pa., and Lisbon.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hole, the octogenarian was born on N. Ellsworth Ave. His father was a funeral director.

Two Sons Teach

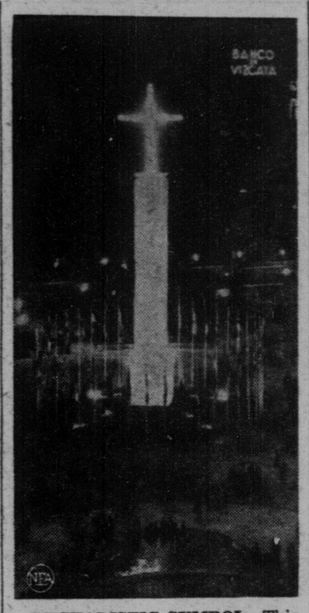
Two of Mr. Hole's sons are teachers—E. M. Hole is on the Wooster College faculty, while Louis Hole is a teacher in the Allegheny High School at Pittsburgh. Another son, Robert Hole, is general superintendent of the Cleveland Construction Company and his fourth son, Maurice Hole, is in business in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Mason Beaumont (Leora I. Welker) of E. Third St., has the distinction of being the oldest living graduate of Salem High School and received her diploma at the 11th annual commencement exercises, also held in Concert Hall. The other two members of the Class of '75 were Hannah C. Stewart, a teacher, and Mary J. Howell, a nurse.

Dr. Mary White, who graduated in 1878, has practiced medicine in Cleveland for many years. She is expected here for the alumni reunion Friday evening.

Among the other graduates living who were in the 1800's classes, are: Miss Nora Hise, '81; Lizzie Turner Dean, '82; Katherine Carr McMillan, '85 and Mrs. S. N. VanBlaricom, '87.

It is believed that coffee was first grown and widely used as a beverage in Arabia.



EUCHARISTIC SYMBOL—This huge cross stands in the Plaza Cataluna in Barcelona, Spain, and is lighted up at night during the first international Eucharistic Congress in 14 years. Around the base are the flags of the participating nations. Half a million pilgrims crowded Barcelona for the ceremonies.

Radio And Television

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK (AP)—Coast to coast relay via radio and television will be in effect for tonight's heavyweight championship fight, scheduled for 15 rounds, between Champion Joe Walcutt and Ezzard Charles, former titleholder, in a return match. ABC will do the radio and NBC—TV the video.

Broadcast time is 9 EST. The TV network of 52 stations will omit Philadelphia because that is the city of origination. More than 325 stations will be in the radio hookup.

A panel of three Cincinnati and Louisville newspapermen will be on hand when Sen. Robert A. Taft makes a return visit to the Reporters Roundup on MBS tonight, the program originating from Cincinnati at 9:30 Eastern local time.

Since the broadcast follows Gen. Eisenhower's Abilene, Kas., Wednesday speech, many of the questions are expected to turn on the expressed views of the opposing candidates for the Republican presidential nomination.

The questioners are to be Joseph Sagmaster of the Cincinnati Times Star, Joseph Garretson of the Cincinnati Enquirer and Robert L. Riggs of the Louisville Courier Journal.

LOST 28 POUNDS
Looks Younger—Feels Better
"Three years ago I underwent an operation and had gained weight since that time", writes Mrs. George W. Flanigan, 41 Oakwood Ave., Bedford, Ohio. "Since I read so much about Rennel I decided to try it. I am well pleased with the results. In the short time that I have been taking Rennel I have lost 28 lbs. My friends all tell me I look younger since losing this weight and I feel fine."
Thousands of others have overcome the social and physical discomfort of being overweight with this effective home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on Rennel.

Graduating Nurses Honored At Outing

Senior student nurses at Salem City Hospital, hospital department heads, head nurses, supervisors and instructors enjoyed an outing Tuesday at Firestone Park, honoring seniors. Sally Taylor, Carna Arbanitis, Enid Kentzel, Mary Newell and Kay Bollinger. Charles Mosher, hospital superintendent, also attended.

Mrs. Mary Jane Leeper, hospital dietician, planned the picnic. Swimming and baseball provided recreation. The picnic is a prelude to the baccalaureate service June 15 in Trinity Lutheran Church and graduation June 19 in the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Ruth E. Aubrey, directress of nurses, Mrs Harriet Stahl, assistant director, Miss Kathleen Cavanaugh, operating room supervisor, and Mrs. Bertha Stone, clinical instructor, presented the annual awards to the seniors.

Sally Taylor received the academic award made possible by the Kiwanis Club. The Lions Club surgical nurse award went to Miss Arbanitis and the Rotary award for personality was presented Miss Kentzel.

Personal billfolds were the gifts from the hospital employes to the five students. Mrs. Aubrey made the presentations.

Rev. Mayer Heads Methodist District

Rev. Theodore C. Mayer of Wooster, a former Salem resident, is the new superintendent of the Steubenville district of the Methodist Church.

Rev. Mayer was appointed by Bishop Hazen G. Werner to succeed Dr. William B. Robinson of Steubenville, who has been made superintendent of the Methodist Children's Home in Berea. The appointments are effective July 1.

Rev. Mayer, who is in his seventh year at the Wooster Methodist church, is the son of the late Rev. Rina Mayer. Another son, Rev. Sidney Mayer, is in Toledo.

The new Methodist district superintendent is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and Garrett Theological seminary. He will oversee 64 churches in the four-county district which has a membership totaling 31,631.

THE CLEVER TRICKS that designers have turned in summer cottons are exemplified by these fashions. A tweed-like cotton (left) is used by Bonnie Cashin for this dark gray raincoat lined in pale pink cotton and equipped with zippered stowaway pockets. Matching umbrella is gray, lined with pink, and water-repellent cloche is in the gray. Quilted dimity shorts (center) in rosebud pattern are called "souffles" by their designer, Greta Plattry, because of their lightness. They're shown here with broadcloth blouse in solid color. Denim, that workhorse of the past, has turned glamorous this year (right). It's shown in a full-skirted dress for summer evenings, done in pale gray by Judy and Jill and given an all-over embroidery of rhinestones and pearls. Dress is sashed in gray satin.

Rev. And Mrs. G. S. Wilson Feted At Farewell Reception

SOC—REV AND MRS. G. S. Wilson

Tribute to the Presbyterian pastor and his family was extended Wednesday evening by the congregation, other friends and members of the Salem and Vicinity Ministerial Association at a farewell reception in the church.

Rev. George S. Wilson, who came as pastor of the church last July and who leaves June 11 for Newport, R. I. on recall as chaplain in the navy, was honored for his work both in the church and as a member of the community.

In behalf of the Ministerial Association, Rev. Harold Winn, vice president, expressed appreciation for Mr. Wilson's activities in the association. Rev. Ashley Wilson, pastor of the Hanoverton Presbyterian Church, who will serve as moderator of the Salem church until a new pastor is found, told of his friendship with the Wilsons.

Speaking for the deacons, trustees and elders, J. Raymond Stiver, president of the trustees, gave the congregation's tribute to the Wilsons. Little Dawna Mae Stiver presented Mr. Wilson the gift and Mr. Stiver gave him a billfold and money from his friends here.

All the Wilson, Mrs. Edith Wilson and their children, Bruce, Wendi and Christopher (Rocky) were presented a gift of luggage and accessories by Mrs. J. C. Pottorf, president of the Women's Association. Mr. Wilson expressed thanks for the cooperation of the people of the church and voiced regret in leaving.

Tribute to the Wilsons was sung by the Haviland Choir under the direction of Mrs. Walter Hofmeister. Included were the selections, "You'll Never Walk Alone." "Deep River," "The Is My Country" and numbers by the women's chorus.

Mrs. Pottorf served as mistress of ceremonies, welcoming the 250 persons at the party arranged by the members of the Women's Association. The June Committee, headed by Mrs. Norman Pim and Mrs. Rex Hundertmarck, served punch and cookies. Iris from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McFeely were used to beautify the table, and in window boxes.

Couple Marks 50th Year Of Wedded Life

Friends and relatives are invited to the open-house reception for Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Lipp of Petersburg from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Thursday, June 12, in Pavilion 4 at Firestone Park in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

Thursday, June 12, was the day the former Helen Flickinger and Harry Lipp were married 50 years ago in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Flickinger, on N. Lincoln Ave. Rev. C. Stanley of Berlin Center officiated at the wedding.

The Lipps are former Salem residents but after living here 15 years they moved back to Petersburg where they have resided for the past five years.

They have four sons, Evas of Salem, Walter of Lisbon, Lester of Barberton and Kenneth of Buffalo; a daughter, Mrs. Carl Kyser of Columbiana; 10 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Lipp are members of the North Lima Evangelical and Reformed Church. He is a truck gardener. Expected to attend the reception is Mrs. Lewis Lipp, 94, of Youngstown, mother of Mr. Lipp.

Presbyterian Groups Hold Luncheon

Presbyterian February and March Committee members joined for their dessert luncheon meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harry Snyder on Buckeye Ave. Mrs. Orrie Sisco was associate hostess.

Mrs. Gertrude Stewart, chairman of the March committee, was hostess for her group. The program opened with singing, and two clarinet solos by Janet Williams, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. John Williams. "Whispering Hope" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told" were the selections.

Two March committee members, Mrs. George Manning told of "Mothers of the Bible" and her daughter, Mrs. Donald Stokes gave a reading, "Parable to Mothers."

From the study book, "We Americans, North and South," Mrs. Maurice Sadler outlined pertinent facts concerning colonization and struggle for independence. Miss Erma Hoopes presented the missionary project for the September medical mission program.

The next meeting of the committees is in September. Mrs. Charles Haldi and Mrs. J. H. Benson are chairmen of the February Committee and Mrs. R. B. Long Sr. is co-chairman with Mrs. Stewart of the March Committee.

Army Issues August Draft Call Of 29,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army today issued a draft call for 29,000 men in August.

The Marine Corps, Air Force and Navy do not plan any draft calls that month.

The August quota raises to 983,430 the total of men drafted by all services since September, 1950. The Army got 902,00 of these, the Marines 81,430.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Pickle Coleslaw Is Loaf Filler

For a supper party, you'll like this new recipe. It makes a handsome appearance and goes interestingly with cold cuts and rolls.

Tomato Aspic Loaf Filled With Pickle Coleslaw

Tomato Aspic Loaf:
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
5½ cups tomato juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped dill pickles

Soften gelatin in ½ cup cold tomato juice 5 minutes. In a saucepan, bring remaining tomato juice to a boil; add softened gelatin and salt, stirring until dissolved. Cool and when mixture begins to thicken, fold in chopped dill pickles. Turn into oiled 9x5x3-inch loaf pan and chill until firm.

Unmold aspic on large platter. Using a paper pattern about 6½x3 inches cut a rectangular hole out the center of the aspic loaf. Fill with pickle coleslaw and serve. Aspic cut from center of mold may be cut into cubes, refrigerated and served next day as jellied tomato soup. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Pickle Coleslaw:
3 cups shredded cabbage,
1 small onion thinly sliced
3 dill pickles, chopped
½ cup French dressing

In a bowl, combine all ingredients and toss well.

Two Salem Men Called To Service

Two Salem youths were among 19 persons from Columbiana County who left this morning from Lisbon for Cleveland to be inducted into the armed forces.

They are Leroy C. Pyatt Jr. of 518 Ohio Ave. and Frank J. Harrigan of 308½ Ohio Ave.

Others is the group include Emanuel L. Fellouzis, Frank D. Hanlin, Ralph B. Watson, Robert L. Myers, Donald E. Cain, Ray Clark, and Joseph Comfort, all of East Liverpool; John E. Lockland of Wellsville; Richard Torrence, Ungaro and Barry S. Weigle of East Palestine.

Ray D. Driscoll and Edward R. Strabala of Leetonia; Arthur J. Krebs of New Waterford; Arthur R. Carter of Salineville; and Alfred Wuthrick, RD 2, Beloit.

This completes the county quota for June, Columbiana County Draft Board No. 16 announced. The board said that 30 men are scheduled to take physical examinations July 1, and 19 will be inducted July 3.

The first New England newspaper to be firmly established outside of Boston was the Connecticut Gazette of New Haven, founded in 1755 by James Parker, an associate of Benjamin Franklin.

Area Democrats To Hold Picnic

Parking Restrictions Issued By Council

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana County Democratic Chairman Don R. Gosney of Columbiana announces the annual county picnic to be held June 15 at Copacia's Lake, south of Salem on Depot Rd.

Prominent Democrats to be in attendance will include Congressman Wayne L. Hays, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, State Senator Arthur Blake of Martin's Ferry, Paul Ward of Columbus, candidate for attorney general, and Charles Sweeney of Wakeman, former secretary of state and candidate for election again.

Lt. Gov. George D. Nye of Waverly and Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, candidate for the U.S. Senate, may also be present.

John Kelton of Hanover Township is in charge of tickets and Attorney Guy Mauro of Salem will arrange the program. Ray Lewis of Lisbon will have charge of entertainment, including vocal music under Esther Oderan of Salem and dancing under Betty Lewis.

Dinner will be served from 1 to 3 p.m. by the Salem Junior Democratic Club. Tickets will be available from all precinct committeemen.

HENRY KECK, head of the Columbiana Storage Co., which recently bought the former Bomberger property on S. Main St., and will convert the large brick residence into a storage building, was before council Tuesday evening in conjunction with George Herrmann of the Columbiana Buick Co., with a request for parking restrictions.

The wide alley extending south from E. Railroad St. between the properties is being used for parking to the inconvenience of both, and council ordered that parking be prohibited at specified hours during the day. Mr. Keck plans to slag the lot in the rear of the residence for the use of his trucks, and both he and the Buick company want convenient access to their premises. Parking for about a car length at the storage company's office entrance on Railroad St. will be prohibited. The storage company plans also to restore the drive off S. Main St. between its property and the large brick warehouse. The driveway has not been used for many years.

Parking will be prohibited along the old ladies' home on the south side of Allen Ave., just off Main St.

Chief R. G. Millen recommended signs in town directing traffic to the Pennsylvania turnpike. An unauthorized sign erected by outside parties directing traffic to Route 30 was ordered removed because the underpass at the Pennsylvania Railroad on Lisbon St. does not afford clearance for large trucks.

An ordinance was passed creating a secondary labor class at 65 cents an hour, especially for youthful assistants at Firestone Park.

There will be no police inspection of motor vehicles in Columbiana this summer, as the matter has been taken out of the hands of the Highway Patrol. Cars are checked by the Columbiana Motor Co., E. Park Ave. Clerk S. Richard Orr reported that signs warning drivers of children in the neighborhood may be obtained through the municipality for $2.60.

A "dead-end" street sign was ordered placed on N. Cross St. at W. Park Ave.

THE GROUNDS around the site of the new Lutheran Church on S. Main St. are being graded, and the concrete wall along the Main St. front is being removed. Dirt is being trucked to fill some low-lying lots on N. Middle St. between W. Salem St. and Allen Ave.

In its first game of the league season away from home, Columbiana was tied with Salem, 5-5, when the game was called at the end of the ninth on account of darkness. Columbiana will play at East Palestine Sunday and East Palestine will play here next Wednesday evening.

FILE TAX REFUND CLAIM

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (AP)—The Vindicator Printing Co., publisher of the Youngstown Vindicator, has filed a $30,291 refund claim on its 1944 federal income taxes in federal court here. The firm, in a lawsuit against Collector of Internal Revenue Thomas M. Carey, said the revenue bureau erred in disallowing a $35,428 pension plan expense.

Politicians Scan Ike's Address

Hints To His Views Sought In 1st Speech

Washington (AP) — Politicians who cheered or jeered Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's springboard speech into the Republican presidential race searched today for clues as to just how he stands on such issues as steel seizure, civil rights and farm price supports.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio had nothing to say of the address in which his chief rival for the GOP nomination formally kicked off a campaign for the presidency at homecoming ceremonies in Abilene, Kan. last night.

Taft has agreed to answer questions at a luncheon speaking date today in Buckhannon, W.Va. He may take this opportunity to comment on what Eisenhower had to say.

"DRESSED" IN A PLANE—"I feel like I was wearing her instead of flying her," said Test Pilot Bob Starr after taking up "Sky Baby," the world's smallest plane on its first flight at Palm Springs, Calif. The midget has a wingspread of only seven feet, three inches, is nine feet 10 inches long, weighs 452 pounds and is powered by an 180-pound, 85-h.p. Continental engine that turns a 60-inch wood-and-plastic propeller. Starr, shown in the plane, and Ray Stits, of Riverside, Calif., built Sky Baby for about $2200.

Eisenhower said the four big threats on the home front are disunity, excessive taxation, inflation and bureaucracy — the concentration of power in the federal government. He hit at mystery in foreign policy, the menace of Communism abroad and the length of time the Democratic party has been in power.

Pro-Taft Republicans agreed with the General's analysis that:

"Political health is endangered if one party, by whatever means, becomes permanently or too-long entrenched in power. The almost inevitable consequence is graft and incompetence in remote and even in prominent places of government."

But a number of Taft supporters sized up the speech as filled with generalities. One of them, Rep. Reece of Tennessee, put it this way: "It looks like he's pretty much for mother, home and heaven."

Sen. Wiley of Wisconsin was "glad to note the general agrees with all good Republicans as to what is needed.' He interpreted the address as a "good omen of better times to come and of victory, particularly."

Sen. Ferguson of Michigan was "glad that he recognizes there should be a cleaning up."

"I think he's right—I know he's right," Ferguson remarked.

Sen. Ives of New York, an Eisenhower rooter, regarded the address as an analytical presentation, along general lines, of critical present-day problems.

"It is an excellent presentation," he said, "and indicates Eisenhower's splendid grasp of these conditions."

Tax Collections Drop

Sales tax collections in Columbiana County during the week ending May 17 were almost $13,000 under those reported for the corresponding period last year, Roger W. Tracy, state treasurer, announced.

Collections totaled $28,678.61 as compared with the $41,553.57 recorded during the same week last year.

GIs Split POW Camp In Half

Boatner Cutting Size Of Koje Compounds

KOJE ISLAND, Korea (AP)—Tankled Allied infantrymen and engineers split one of Koje Island's big prisoner compounds in half with a tough barbed wire fence today as 3,340 jeering Communist civilian internees stood by chanting Red hymns. There was no violence.

Erection of the fence within compound 607 was ordered by Brig. Gen. Haydon Boatner, the Koje commander, as the first step in splitting 17 big compounds into smaller camps for the island's 80,000 POWs.

The heavily-armed troops marched into the compound shortly before Boatner issued a statement acknowledging that rations have been withheld from three compounds on separate days.

There have been reports that food rations were reduced to enforce discipline among unruly prisoners. Boatner said this was not the case.

"At no time have we withheld rations as a weapon to obtain obedience to any order, nor have we threatened to do so," he said.

He explained that no rations were issued on the day troops entered a compound to enforce orders.

'We were taking offensive action against them because of their defiance and illegal actions," Boatner said. "In view of this and knowing they had stocks of food hoarded it would have been manifestly absurd for us to provide them with more food. . . .'

Boatner emphasized that the Geneva Convention provides for withholding rations under certain conditions.

County To Sell Land Near Salineville

LISBON—County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge said about 70 acres of land formerly owned by the Columbiana Coal & Clay Co. will be sold at auction in a forclosure sale June 17 at the Courthouse.

Judge said the land involving 19 properties has about $30,00 due in back taxes and interest.

It is located in Washington Township near Salineville.

19 Savings Accounts Told In Tax Evasion

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Canton physician, on trial on charges of income tax evasion, is accused of having 19 savings accounts at banks in five Ohio cities.

Dr. Harold S. Schmuck, 50, is charged with evading $47,286 in federal income taxes from 1945-47. He pleaded innocent.

Ten bank officials testified as the trial opened Wednesday. The government contends Dr. Schmuck had bank accounts in Massillon, Wooster, Akron, Cleveland and Canton. All were in his own name except an account at the Peoples Bank in Canton, the prosecution said.

A. W. Streckert, assistant cashier of the Peoples Bank, testified the physician had an account there in the name of Mary Louise Schmuck, apparently a niece. The defense sought to show the account was in the doctor's name because the girl was too young to deposit or draw funds.

According to the indictment, Dr. Schmuck reported income of $51,954 and paid $16,833 taxes for the three-year period. The government says he earned $128,570 and should have paid $64,170.

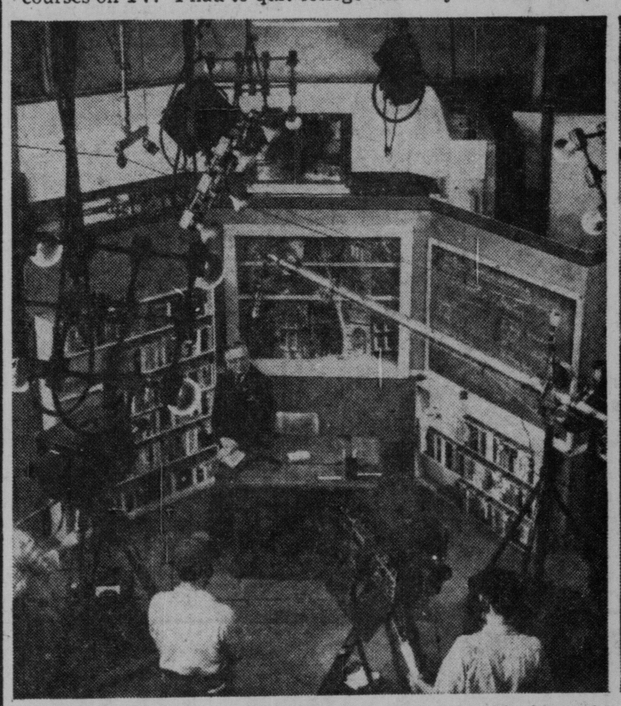
COLLEGE GOES TO THE STUDENTS

COLLEGE STUDENTS, at last, may have found some new excuses to give their professor when they fail to do their homework. They might say, "My tube burned out," or "I guess I was on the wrong channel." These students, of course, are going to school by means of the television set in their own homes. A pioneer experiment by Western Reserve university and a Cleveland television station is bringing college courses to an audience of more than 50,000 "viewdents," as the new type of student is called. Initial courses included such subjects as introductory psychology and comparative literature. Mrs. Wallace Judd, housewife from Wickliffe, O., near Cleveland, typifies many of the women who watch the courses on TV. "I had to quit college when my son was born," she says, "but now I can baby sit and study for my degree at the same time." Wounded war veterans in hospitals, shut-ins and persons living far from the city can now go to college by twisting a few knobs on their TV set. Classes are usually held in the mornings and are one-half hour long. If the telecourse student has a question, he phones the TV station and the professor then answers the problem on the next session. Studio sets resemble a professor's study flanked with blackboards and final exam is held at the college. Professors, such as Dr. Joseph Remenyi, are concerned with offering concise, to the point lectures, but, with no TV training, they are surprisingly proficient. From the little red schoolhouse down to the television classroom, education has come a long, long way.



College "television classroom" has desk, books, blackboard.

Truman To Attend Dems Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman said today he will attend the Democratic national convention after it has chosen its presidential nominee—and he will not be that nominee.

The President also told a news conference he does not contemplate sending any legislation to Congress dealing with the steel strike.

This was the only comment he would make when he was questioned about Monday's supreme court decision declaring his seizure of the steel mills was illegal.

Questioners asked also whether he would invoke the Taft-Hartley act in order to get the workers back on the job. His reply was only, no comment.

Referring to the Chicago convention, Truman said he'd like to attend the entire proceedings but won't do so because his presence might create a disturbance.

Truman was told at his news conference some Republicans have said he is engaged in a "devious plot" to get the nomination for himself.

This he denied and said such charges usually originate in warped minds.

Of Wednesday's statement by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that the Democrats have been in power too long, Truman replied it is up to the people to decide that.

He declined further comment on Eisenhower's opening campaign speech, saying he is not at all interested in the Republican pre-convention race.

City Officials Convicted Of Violating Civil Rights Statute

CHICAGO (AP)—The police chief, two policemen and the village attorney of suburban Cicero were convicted last night on charges stemming from race rioting last July in the all-white suburb.

The officials were tried before a Federal Civil Rights Statute. The indictments were returned in connection with the rioting which occurred when a Negro attempted to move his family into a 20-apartment building in the community of 70,000.

Three days of rioting, with crowds of 5,000 milling around the apartment building, ended on July 12 when five companies of national guardsmen were sent to the scene.

Nearly a score of persons were hurt and more than 10 others were arrested during the disturbances. The Negro's apartment was set afire and some of his furniture destroyed.

Police Chief Erwin Konovsky was convicted on two counts, violating the Civil Rights Statute and conspiracy. He faces a possible maximum sentence of two years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

The two policemen, Sgt. Roland Brami and Frank A. Lange, were convicted of violating the statute. They face a possible maximum punishment of one year in prison and $1,000 fine each.

Village Atty. Nicholas Berkos faces a similar punishment on his conviction of conspiracy. He was acquitted on an indictment charging violation of the statute.

The defendants had been accused of depriving Harvey E. Clark Jr., 29-year-old Negro bus driver, of his civil rights by failing to keep crowds from interfering with his efforts to move into the apartment he had rented.

Action On Korean Front Is Light

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Allied and Communist patrols skirmished Wednesday through one of the lightest action days of the stalemated, 23-months-old Korean War.

The biggest Communist units met by United Nations patrols, on the Central Front, numbered about 30 or 40 men. The infantrymen traded brief volleys.

Allied divisions on the Western Front, usually the most active, reported no significant contact.

Artillery inflicted about 58 casualties on about 155 Reds located in the Mundung and Satae valleys and near the Punchbowl on the Eastern Front.

CHARGED IN SHOOTING

DOVER, O. (AP) — A 56-year-old housekeeper has been bound to the grand jury on charges of shooting with intent to kill her employer, steelworker Tom Ellis, 62. Mrs. Sylvia May Storkey pleaded innocent and was jailed in default of $7,500 bond. He accused Mrs. Storkey of shooting him in an argument over grocery bills.

Indians Fall From First, Victim Of Boston-Detroit Swap

Former Detroit Players Shine

Red Sox Again First; Tribe Drops To Second

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

This may be the year that Tom Yawkey is rewarded for his costly and unceasing efforts to bring the American League pennant to Boston.

The generous owner of the Red Sox found out painfully that pennants couldn't be bought. Yawkey then set up an expensive farm system. It produced a pennant in 1946 and heartaches ever since.

Yawkey, far from discouraged, tried another method. Tuesday he okayed a million dollar deal that brought four veterans from Detroit in exchange for infielders Johnny Pesky, Walt Dropo, Fred Hatfield, pitcher Bill Wight and outfielder Don Lenhardt.

The trade already has paid the Red Sox dividends. Three of the newcomers, third baseman George Kell, outfielder Hoot Evers, and pitcher Dizzy Trout teamed up yesterday to lead the Sox to a 13-11 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. The other Tiger acquired in the deal, shortstop Johnny Lipon, didn't play. The victory enabled the Red Sox to take over the lead from the Indians.

Kell and Evers each cracked home runs and drove in three runs apiece. Trout, working in relief, gained his second victory.

Yawkey has shelled out millions of dollars since 1933 but most of it has gone down the drain.

His purchases included pitcher Lefty Grove and first baseman Jimmy Foxx from Philadelphia for $275,000 and shortstop Joe Cronin from Washington for $250,000.

Yawkey, General Manager Cronin and Manager Lou Boudreau decided to go with youth this season. The kids started off brilliantly and the Red Sox were at the head of the class for a spell.

The youth movement has been sidetracked for the time being. Only one greenhorn, first baseman Dick Gernert is in the lineup. Its up to the old hands, along with the addition of the pros from Detroit to fulfill Yawkey's hopes.

Boston took an early lead against the Indians yesterday, rolling up an 8-2 advantage against Bobby Feller in two innings but lefty Mel Parnell couldn't hold it. The Indians chased Parnell in the fifth when they scored five runs to tie the score at 9-9.

Kell, making his Red Sox debut, broke the tie in the bottom of the fifth with a two-run homer off Steve Gromek. The Red Sox sewed it up with two more in the sixth. Larry Doby was Cleveland's big gun. He drove in six runs on a homer, triple, double and single.

The New York Yankees climbed into third place, 1½ games behind Boston and five percentage points ahead of Washington, by beating the Chicago White Sox, 6-3. The Senators' night game with St. Louis was rained out.

Ed Lopat, with help in the ninth from Bob Hogue, gained credit for his second victory. The Yanks clipped Joe Dobson for all of their 13 hits and runs in six innings. Yogi Berra, with a homer and single, and Irv Noren, with three singles, led the Yankee attack.

Little Bobby Shantz turned in his eighth straight victory and his ninth of the season as the Athletics shaded Detroit, 4-3, in a night game at Philadelphia. Eddie Joost's two-run homer in the fourth decided the issue.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers stretched their lead to two games, downing the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-4, in a night game while the runner-up New York Giants bowed, 6-2, to Chicago in the afternoon.

Jackie Robinson pounded out a single, double and home run to lead Brooklyn to its seventh straight victory over the Pirates. Duke Snider also homered for Brooklyn while Ralph Kiner socked his eighth for Pittsburgh. Carl Erskine, with help in the ninth from Billy Loes, was the winner and Bob Friend the loser.

Big Bob Rush turned in his seventh straight triumph for Chicago in beating the Giants. The Giants scored twice in the fourth to check Rush's consecutive scoreless inning streak at 32. The Cubs rocked Larry Jansen for five runs in the seventh to wipe out a 2-1 deficit and win the game. Hank Sauer belted his 12th homer for Chicago in the fifth.

Cloyd Boyer came up with his second shutout of the season as the Cardinals defeated the Boston Braves, 6-0, in a night game at St. Louis. Boyer allowed four hits, fanned seven and walked one. The Cards made the most of seven walks issued by Dick Donovan and Bob Chipman. Enos Slaughter drove home half of the Cards' runs.

The Cincinnati Reds outlasted the Philadelphia Phillies, 10-8, in a night game at Cincinnati. The Reds scored seven runs in the second and led, 8-1, going into the sixth when the Phils tied it with a seven run rally. The Reds broke it up with two in the eighth. Grady Hatton singled home the winning run and Willard Marshall's fly drove across the insurance marker.

Relief pitcher Frank Smith allowed no hits over the final 3 1-3 innings to gain his second victory in as many nights. Tuesday night Smith permitted only one blow in six innings.

Saxton Wins 29th; Decisions Rawlings

CHICAGO (AP)—Muscular Johnny Saxton following out his plans of crowding, covering and connecting to whip rangy Luther Rawlings Wednesday night and register his 29th consecutive ring victory without a loss.

The New York welterweight, outweighing his Chicago opponent 147 to 141½ pounds, showed off his steaming left hook and close-in artistry before a mere 2,411 customers in Chicago Stadium.

The group, smallest of the 1952 Stadium season, paid $7,191.

Charles Rated 2-1 Favorite

Champion Claims He Will KO Challenger

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The fourth and most lucrative episode in the Jersey Joe Walcott-Ezzard Charles road series will be unreeled tonight with Charles rated a 2 to 1 favorite to make boxing history and become the first former heavyweight king to win back his crown.

Forecasts of fair weather for the 9 p.m. (EST) 15-rounder in Municipal Stadium, site of many historic events in sports, boosted promoter Herman Taylor's confidence that about 35,000 will pay $250,000 to see the scrap. Taylor said he already had $150,000 in the till and predicted a bumper last day sale.

The bout will be broadcast and telecast coast-to-coast with a 75-mile area around Philadelphia blacked out of the telecast.

With $175,000 paid for the radio-TV rights, this latest, and no doubt last, number in the three-year old rivalry appears a cinch to eclipse the financial take of the other three stops in Chicago, Detroit and Pittsburgh.

It was in Pittsburgh last July 18 that the heavy fisted thick-armed Walcott uncorked a perfect left hook to knock out the champion in the seventh round.

"I'll be out to knock him out again," said the 38-year-old Camden miracle man in his last public statement. "I've got his number and he knows it."

"He's got the title. I'll have to go after him and get it," said the solemn-faced and determined Charles.

If the challenger follows through on his statement the fight could be the best of the series that started with a waltz in Chicago, picked up a little steam in Detroit and really started to blaze in Pittsburgh.

Walcott, a superb counter-puncher with a kayo wallop in either hand, is in a perfect spot to draw Ezzard into a trap. As Ezzard pointed out, he will have to make the fight.

This is right up the alley of the champion. One opening by Charles could mean the fight. Walcott has been working constantly on devastating counter punches. It seems he has geared himself for a quick finish although he said, "I can win a decision if the bout goes the limit."

Ezzard expects to weigh 191 pounds—heaviest of his career—at the weigh-in. Nearing 31, he has grown into a full-fledged heavyweight, is heavier around the face and on his legs, and undoubtedly has slowed up in the building-up process. He is sacrificing some of his speed for power.

The 192 pounds will be ten more than he packed for his losing fight in Pittsburgh.

Walcott's weight has not varied much. He expects to weigh 194 or 195 tonight. For the other three bouts he weighed, in order, 195½, 193, and 194.

Fight Results

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO — Johnny Saxton, 147, Brooklyn, outpointed Luther Rawlings, 14½, Chicago, 10.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla — Joe Rindone, 163½, Boston, outpointed Billy Kilgore, 165, Miami, 10.

EL PASO, Tex — Charley Salas, Phoenix, stopped Ramon Perez, El Paso, 4.

The Cincinnati Reds won 21 and lost 31 at night during 1951. At Crosley Field they won 13 and lost 14 under the lights.

Kate's Kottage, N. Georgetown, Democrats Win

Kate's Kottage, North Georgetown and the Democratic Club banged out victories in the Girls League last night at Kelley Park when they defeated Amvets, Columbiana and the Red Caps.

The Kottage nine set a terrific pace in capturing their game by downing their foes, 12-11. They collected single runs in the first, third, and fifth frame, two in the fourth, four in the sixth and three in the seventh inning.

The Amvets tallied one in the second, two in the third, three in the fifth and five in the seventh inning as they nearly overtook the Kottage nine. However, the latter team cut their opponents off and kept their one run lead to win.

J. Earley led the winners with four hits in as many trips. She slashed out two singles and two home runs.

The Democratic Club scored their runs in bunches and managed to top the Red Caps in a slugfest, 12-6. The winners, who had two home run hitters in Helen Dora Copacia and Grace Miller, tallied three markers in the third frame, four in the fifth and six in the sixth inning to grab the victory.

The Red Caps garnered just seven hits in scoring their six runs while the winners collected 15 bingles to tally 12 runs.

Miller slammed two home runs and two singles to lead the hitting while also pitching for the Democrats. Copacia rapped a homer and two singles in four trips to the plate.

North Georgetown slammed out nine hits for a total of eight runs as the latter outfit whipped Columbiana, 8-0. Nancy Schneider, North Georgetown twirler, yielded just one bingle to the losers as her team won the five inning affair.

THIRD LEG—The $100,000-added The Belmont at one mile and a half fits the White Oak Stable's stretch-running Blue Man, inset, like a tailor-made suit. It's the third leg of the Triple Crown, the only one run at the true Derby distance, and attracts some 55,000 to Belmont Park.

Little League Opening Draws Large Crowd In Centennial Park

A large crowd of nearly 700 attended the Little League opening at Centennial Park last night when four teams of the Little League saw action.

Fisher's News Agency and Sekely Ind. opened the 1952 campaign but a winner wasn't declared since the two teams were deadlocked at 4-all when the tilt was called to allow Mullins and Sanitary to play.

The Mullins-Sanitary game was called at the end of four innings with the Mullins squad leading by a scant single run, 7-6.

Fisher's tallied two runs in the first two innings and then collected two more in the fourth frame to tie Sekely's, who tallied two in each the third and fourth frame.

Mullins put home two runs in the first inning, collected another in the second frame and schored four more in the third to whip the Sanitary. The latter outfit collected six big runs in the fourth inning as Catcher Snyder slammed a home run over the left field fence with two mates aboard.

Minor League players will open their loop Friday at 5:30 p.m. at Centennial Park with two games slated. All players who failed to make the Major League teams are requested to be ready to play at 5:30.

Yankees Sign Identical Twins

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Charnofsky boys, identical twins signed from the University of Southern California by the New York Yankee chain Wednesday, are easy to tell apart.

Easy, that is, if you take the word of USC Coach Rod Dedeaux, who claims:

"Hal, at 155 pounds, is the biggest. Stan only weights 154."

Or, look closely and you'll see that Hal is the older—by 20 mintes.

At any rate, the twins, a rarity in baseball, are well regarded by baseball people. Several other clubs were after them but the Yankees bagged 'em for their Binghamton club in the Class A Eastern League. Each twin got a bonus but the amount was not disclosed.

The two were All-League at Los Angeles' Lincoln High School.

Hal is a shortstop and Stan a second baseman.

Bowling Classic Today Includes All-Stars

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The American Bowling Congress' Masters' Invitational double elimination match tourney looks more like the all-star classic every day.

Of the four undefeated bowlers, three of them figured prominently in this season's all-star—Junie McMahon of Chicago, the national match game champion; Steve Nagy of Cleveland, who boasted high average of 209 in the All-Star, and Andy Varipapa of Hempstead, N. Y., twice winner of the national crown.

The lone "outsider" is Willard Taylor of South Charleston, W. Va.

This quartet, and 12 others who have one defeat each, still are in the running for the Masters' crown, but one more defeat will eliminate any of the 12. It will take two losses to oust the four in the winners' bracket.

McMahon clashes with Varipapa and Nagy opposes Taylor in tonight's matches.

Shooting in the regular ABC tourney was unusually slow.

Merchants Drop First Game

Lisbon Wins 3-2 Contest In 7th Inning

The Salem Merchants dropped their initial game of the season last night at Lisbon when the latter nine tallied a run in the seventh frame to win, 3-2.

It was a good game all the way, Lisbon garnering two markers in the first inning and Salem coming to life in the sixth frame to tie the score at 2-all.

The locals didn't score in the first of the seventh but took the field in the bottom of the frame. With a man on first Shortstop Bob Miller fielded a ground ball but threw into rightfield in an attempt for a double play. The runners advanced and a single brought in the winning run and broke the locals eight-game winning streak.

However, the Merchants remain atop the Columbiana County League with an 8-1 record while Lisbon holds second with a 5-1 mark. Pitchers Henry Siefke of Lisbon and Jim Cosgarea had a pitching duel in the second, third, fourth and fifth frames. Siefke yielded just five bingles to the Merchants while striking out eleven and walking one. Cosgarea allowed the winners seven hits in losing his first game against three victories.

Sunday the Merchants will play Negley for the first time this season at 2:30 at Centennial Park. The odd county schedule pits the locals against Negley for the first time but will play them during the latter part of the season.

Wants Matthews Bout June 19th

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Heavyweight Rex Layne's manager today threatened to put a legal crimp in the proposed Harry Matthews-Rocky Marciano bout unless Matthews goes through with a June 19 bout with Layne in Seattle.

Marv Jeson, manager of Layne, said Jack Hurley, Matthews' pilot, had signed a contract providing for the Layne-Matthews return. Matthews, high - ranking Seattle light heavyweight, outpointed Layne in Portland, Ore., May 19.

The International Boxing Club is dickering for the Matthews - Marciano bout for New York's Polo Grounds, July 14.

"Hurley and I signed a contract calling for a return bout on June 19," said Jenson, here to see the heavyweight title scrap tonight. "My lawyer told me it's a perfectly valid contract and I'm going to do my utmost to see that Matthews and Hurley fulfill the contract."

Hurley, also in Philadelphia for the title fight, said, "The contract is for June 9, not June 19. I've been trying to reach Promoter Jimmy Fitten about it but I haven't been able to locate him. What's Jenson screaming about, anyway? All he wants is some publicity."

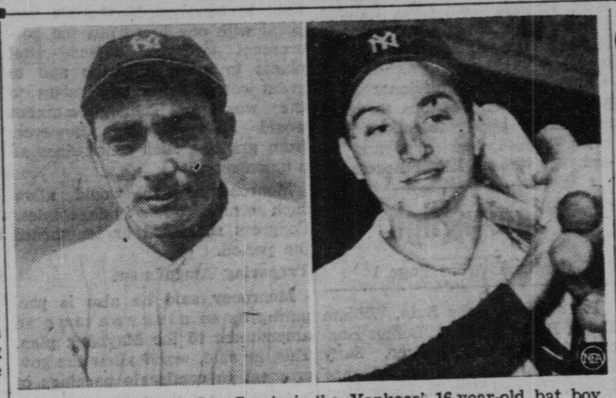
Western Michigan Wins First Of Playoff

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Western Michigan, champion of the Mid-America League, held a one-game advantage over Illinois, Big Ten co-champion, as the two teams today entered a showdown for the NCA District No. 4 baseball playoff title.

The winner of the best-of-three series will go to the NCA finals in Omaha next week.

The series opened Wednesday with Western Michigan grabbing an 8-2 victory behind the scattered eight hit hurling of Tom Cole.

The winners played errorless ball with their 10 hit attack led by Jack Baldwin's homer in the last inning.



LOOK ALIKES — Joe Carrieri, the Yankees' 16-year-old bat boy, looks like and reminds near old-timers of the late Tony Lazzeri, left, who played so much second base and hit so well for the World Champions from 1926 through '37.

Player Who Tries To Improve Game Gets Most Out Of Golf

Sixth Of A Series

BY JACK BURKE

There are two types of players at every club.

One wants to improve his game. The other plays for exercise.

Ninety-nine of 100 golfers who don't break 100 consistently tell you they are not interested in bettering their scores.

But let one of them shoot a 95 and he is pleased and thrilled.

To get the most out of golf, keep trying to improve.

The player who wants to play better looks for competition.

He is never satisfied with his game.

He worries if he has a poor score.

He replays every round mentally, pointing out missed putts and flubbed drives.

That fellow is bound to go somewhere in golf.

THE EXERCISE GOLFER isn't interested in his game and his scores show it. He concedes himself five-foot putts, tees up on fairways, kicks his ball out of holes in the rough. He can even laugh off a 10 on a short hole.

To be sure this type of player gets somethin gout of the game, but not the benefits, fun and thrills he could obtain if he tried to improve.

To get the ultimate out of the game, you must practice, study the game, play in keen competition and try in every way to lower your score.

Sometimes in experimenting to improve you make mistakes. Players often change their stance, grip and clubs.

Sometimes they change for the worse, but the fact that they are trying to get better shows they are interested.

And even if they make many mistakes they cannot help correcting a fault here and there.

Try a relaxed, easy practice pivot. If you feel free and at ease you probably have the proper stance, balance and grip.

WHILE THE USE of the hands and forearms are the basic factors of the proper swing, the hips and shoulders cannot be neglected. They must turn enough to take them out of the way of the hands and forearms.

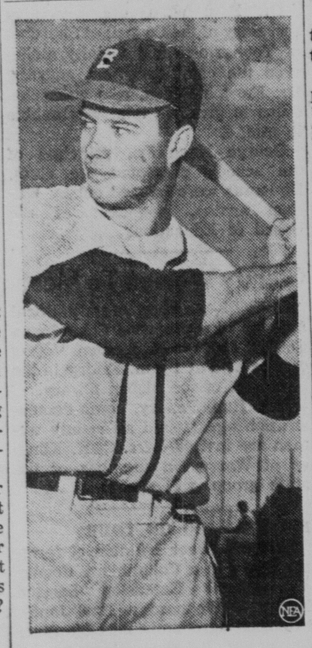
There cannot be any obstruction to the smooth, flowing swing of the forearms.

The length of the backswing depends on the club being played. Woods and long irons require a fuller backswing than short irons.

Golf doesn't come naturally to anyone.

Ability, physique and mental outlook being equal, the player who practices the most will play the best—and get the most out of the game.

NEXT. The irons.



HEFTY HITTER — Appraisers call 20-year-old Ed Mathews the greatest power hitter in Boston Braves' history. The six-foot one-inch, 200-pound third baseman stroked seven homers in the first 24 games.

Golf Tourney Slated In Youngstown

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio's 1952 Public Links golf championship will be held Aug. 14-17 at the Mill Creek Course in Youngstown.

James A. Rhodes, mayor of Columbus and president of the state "pay-as-you-go" links association, announced the dates today for the four-day title test for the fee course stars.

Norm Purucker of Youngstown will be tournament manager. The program calls for a pro-amateur tournament Thursday, Aug. 14; a 36-hole qualifier to name 15 match play entrants Friday, and 18-hole man-to-man contests the final two days.

Vince Leskosky of Youngstown, who won the state title a year ago over the same layout, will defend his laurels. Eighty qualifiers from district events will participate in the state meet.

The public entrants will be selected in district qualifiers, with Cleveland getting five berths, Akron, Toledo and Dayton four each, Columbus three, Youngstown two, and Steubenville and Mansfield one each.

Other golf tournaments set for Ohio this year include:

Women's National Intercollegiate championship, June 10-14 at Ohio State University Course, Columbus.

Inverness Invitational four - ball matches, June 26-29 at Inverness Golf Club, Toledo.

Ohio Open, July 28-30, at Miami Valley Club, Dayton.

National Caddie championship, Aug. 19-23, at Brookside Country Club, Columbus.

Salem Hunting Club To Meet Tonight

There will be a meeting of the Salem Hunting Club at 8 p. m. tonight at the clubhouse, announced Secretary Don Cannon today.

President George Peterson will officiate at the business meeting, which will be followed by movies and a lunch.

Virginia Miliary Institute and West Virginia U. will meet in football for the first time next season.

Noah R. Haught

MINERVA — Noah Ricahrd Haught, 78, of RD 3, Minerva died at Mercy Hopsital, Canton, at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday after an extended illness.

He was a resident here since 1917. Formerly of Monroe County, he was a member of the Methodist Church at New Franklin and a Farm Bureau member.

Surviving are one son, Earl of the home; two daughters, Elizabeth of the home and Mrs. Eldon Miller of Maximo, Ohio; two sisters, Mrs. W. M. Baker of Alliance and Mrs. J. S. Tuel of Monroe County; two brothers, Charles of Freeburg and Grover of St. Marys, W. Va. and one granddaughter.

The funeral will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Gotschall-Hutchison funeral home, with Rev. Neuman Powell officiating. Burial will be at Moultrie Chapel near New Franklin. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening from 7 to 9.

Miss Ada McArtor

MINERVA—Miss Ada Mae McArtor, 49, of 501 East St. Minerva, died at her home at 3:50 p.m. Wednesday after an extended illness.

Formerly of Detroit, she was a resident of Minerva for 30 years. She was a beauty operator there for 10 years. She was a member of the Minerva Christian Church, the Alpha Rho Class, American Legion Auxiliary and the Moose Lodge.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Mary McArtor of the home and two brothers, Harry and Frank of Minerva.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the residence with Rev. William Clague in charge. Burial will be at East Lawn Cemetery. Friends may call at the residence after 7 p.m. this evening.

Mrs. W. J. Binsley

LISBON — Mrs. Luella Chaine Binsley, 82, wife of W. J. Binsley of 407 W. Washington St., died this morning at 6:40 at the Henthrone Chronic Hospital. She had been in failing health the past two years.

Born in Franklin Township May 3, 1870, she was the daughter of J. Calvin and Sara Chaine McCarnes. She lived here most of her life and was a member of United Presbyterian Church and various organizations of the church.

Surviving are her husband; two sons, Lloyd of Lisbon and Paul of Youngstown, five grandchildren; and six great grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call Friday afternoon and evening at the funeral home.

Rules On Teacher Pay From Ohio Funds

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Attorney General C. William O'Neill ruled today 75 per cent of school foundation program funds must go for teachers' salaries. And the 75 per cent must be figured ahead of any deductions, he added.

The ruling affirmed the state education department's interpretation of the Ohio public school code. It went to Prosecutor J. L. McDonald of Columbiana County.

Some school boards in that county sought to deduct a sum equal to proceeds of a 1½-mill levy on tax duplicates in the districts before setting aside the 75 per cent for teachers' salaries. The districts lack their own high schools. The state withholds a sum equal to proceeds of their 1½ - mill levies and uses the money to pay tuition of their students assigned to other districts with high schools.

persons who "feel that I still can be of service to the United States."

Eisenhower also was asked how he stood on the St. Lawrence Seaway project, a highly controversial issue for many years.

'He said he believed "everyone favored the power end of the question' but there was dispute over the economic need of the seaway.

He said if the seaway is really needed by both Canada and the United States, it inevitably will be constructed.

Discussing labor legislation, Eisenhower said he honestly believes that people can not be compelled to work by legislation.

"We've got to find other means to solve our troubles," he said.

He said as a cadet at West Point he had worked for 84 hours each week. But he said he favored the social gains that labor has made and would not give up those gains.

But he added that the entire labor situation can only be complicated if the government "piles law on law."

He said labor could not prosper unless the farmer prospers. And the farmer can not prosper without a prosperous labor group. He said there must be an understanding of this among all groups.

"We've got to work on it like dogs," he said.

A reporter asked Eisenhower bluntly if he favored the re-election of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis), who has become a controversial figure in his charges of Communism in government.

Eisenhower said he would not indulge in personalities under any circumstances, but then he added:

"No one is more determined than I that any kind of Communist influence be uprooted from the government. Make no mistake about that.'

But he added he believed it could be done "without besmirching any innocent man.'

Embargo On Hog Import Lifted By West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—An embargo on shipment of hogs into West Virginia from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan was lifted today by the Agriculture Department.

Agriculture Commissioner J. B. McLaughlin said serious threat of anthrax, a highly infectious livestock disease, had eased and the embargo was no longer necessary.

Mrs. Cline introduced the following Student Council officers for the coming year: Bob McArtor, president; Danny Ferreri, vice president; Rita McArtor, secretary; and Bob Reich, treasurer. The officers were chosen by ballot in classes last week.

Mrs. Betty Ward passed out over 100 merit awards for outstanding services to Junior High in stage work, movie projectors, milk machines, candy sales, tax stamp counters, librarians, messengers, etc.

Steel Strike

fight to supplant Maybank's proposal with one to permit the government to seize defense-vital plants to avert a strike and to grant cost-of-living pay raises to the workers. The government would be prohibited, however, from granting such concessions as a union shop.

Monroney's plan would allow such seizures to last 80 days unless Congress shortened or lengthened the period.

Preparing Amendment

Monroney said he also is preparing as an alternative an amendment to the Maybank plan. This, he said, would allow the government to confiscate earnings of a seized plant which exceed what he termed "average pre-Korean war net earnings." That would be defined as the average net earnings of the plant in its three most profitable years out of the four years immediately preceding the war.

The Senate voted the wage board changes 42-41 yesterday, with Vice-President Barkley casting the deciding vote to break a tie. The wage board has been under bitter attack from industry generally since it recommended a 26-cent-an-hour "package" increase and a union shop as settlement terms in the steel case.

Steelmakers have said the wage board terms are too liberal, and would mean they would have to raise steel prices from $10 a ton to $12 to pay for the plan.

The highest industry offer to the union has been a 17½-cent package contingent on a price increase of around $5 a ton. Workers now average just under $2 an hour, including overtime.

All the Senate labor legislation action was taken in connection with its consideration of extending the Defense Production (controls) Act. The existing controls law is due to expire June 30. The House has yet to act on it.

Those invited to the White House meeting, besides union chief Murray, were Benjamin Fairless of U.S. Steel, Benjamin Moreell of Jones & Laughlin, Frank Purnell of Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Charles M. White of Republic Steel, A. B. Homer of Bethlehem and Clarence Randall of Inland Steel.

64 Seniors Graduate From Lisbon High

LISBON — Over 700 persons crowded into Lisbon High School auditorium Wednesday night to watch 64 seniors receive their diplomas at the 82nd annual commencement of the school.

Dr. Paul W. Gauss, executive secretary of the Council of Churches of Youngstown and vicinity, delivered the commencement address. Dr. Eugene Beach, who was scheduled to give the talk, was unable to attend.

George Nace Jr., principal of the school, presented the class. Diplomas were handed out by William Ashton, president of the Board of Education.

County Women To Meet

LISBON—Another organizational meeting of a proposed Columbiana County League of Women Voters will be held at 1 p.m. Friday in the basement of the Lisbon library.

Mrs. Ruth Pendry, home demonstration agent, said all county women are invited. Mrs. C. H. Klinger of Warren, a member of the state group, will speak.

Wall Street

Early Rush Brings Stock Market Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks subsided today after an opening rush carried the market upward.

The railroads leaped ahead at the opening bell and boosted the rest of the list along into higher ground, but within a short time buying enthusiasm abated, and prices fell away from their best.

The market as a whole spread out from fractions lower to as much as one to two points higher.

Steels were quietly steady as a White House inspired conference got underway to seek an end of the industrywide steel strike in talks between management and labor representatives.

Higher stocks included Standard Oil of New Jersey, Johns-Manville, Consolidated Natural Gas, Homestake Mining, Allied Chemical, U.S. Steel, Goodrich and Admiral Corp.

LIVING INSIGNIA — Some of the 1200 boys and girls attending the annual 4-H Club round-up, held this year at Kansas State College in Manhattan, Kan., formed this living representation of their insignia. Using their Heads and Hands, and putting their Hearts into the project, they presented this picture of Healthy American youth, thus portraying the four H's in their pledge.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

One Child In Forty Inherits Epilepsy

L.S.S. writes: "I have a brother who is epileptic, and I would like to know if there is a chance that my children may become epileptic. My question is, is epilepsy hereditary?"

Dr. Jordan

This is a difficult question to answer, but a discussion of it should be of interest to many readers since epilepsy is by no means a rare disease.

Epilepsy is probably a true hereditary disease, that is, the tendency to develop epilepsy runs in families and is inherited by children from their parents.

But — and this is an important "but" — this does not mean that parents of children with epilepsy always have epilepsy themselves nor that the children of epileptics will always have the disease.

Because of the tendency to inheritance of epilepsy, however, the problem of marriage and childbearing is important and difficult.

About three-quarters of those who develop epilepsy show signs before they reach the usual marriageable age, so they will be in possession of the facts.

A decision on marriage and childbirth must be taken on an individual basis. It depends partly on how severe the convulsions are and how frequently they come.

Also, an instrument called the electroencephalograph, which measures the brain waves, is extremely useful.

In epilepsy these waves are different from normal waves and give important information on the severity of the disease.. Marriage or pregnancy do not make the seizures either better or worse in most cases.

What are the chances that a person with epilepsy will have an epilepic child? Some time ago the family histories of nearly 2,000 victims of epilepsy were studied in an attempt to answer this question. These 2,000 patients had over 12,000 parents, brothers and sisters, and children. Of the 12,000 only about one in 40 had a history of more than one seizure.

On the average, therefore, a person with epilepsy could expect one child out of 40 to have the disease. In other words, any given child of an epileptic parent has 39 chances out of 40 of being normal so far as epilepsy is concerned.

However, even this chance of having epilepsy is about five times that which would be expected in the general population.

With the help of all the facts the physician is able to give a rough estimate on the chances that any given child of a marriage would be subject to seizures. Following this line of thought, Mrs. S. should consult a nerve specialist who can have an electroencephalographic test made on her and then give personal advice.

JURY FAVORS DEFENDANT

LISBON—A Common Pleas Court jury has returned a verdict for the defendant in a civil suit as an aftermath of a collision Nov. 3, 1950, on Route 7 at Rogers.

The jury, voting 9-3, favored William E. Ferguson, administrator of the estate of Stanton Randolph of New Waterford. The Mingo Transfer Corp. of Steubenville was seeking $754 for damages to their truck in the collision with a truck operated by Randolph.

Beloit

Willard McEldowney underwent surgery at the Salem Central Clinic Sunday.

Coconut Rhubarb Pie Includes Egg Needs

Thursday Food-Coconut Rhubarb

Package your family's daily egg requirements in a pie shell. A sprinkle of shredded coconut in a meringue topping makes this coconut rhubarb pie as tempting to the eye as it is to the palate. Few desserts could be more deliciously tempting.

COCONUT RHUBARB PIE

Pastry for one-crust pie:
3 egg yolks, slightly beaten,
¾ cup sugar,
¼ teaspoon salt,
4 tablespoons flour,
2 tablespoons butter, melted,
1 quart rhubarb, cut in ½-inch pieces,
3 egg whites,
1-3 cup sugar,
¾ cup shredded coconut, cut.

Line a 9-inch pie pan with pastry, rolled ⅛-inch thick, allowing pastry to extend 1 inch beyond edge. Fold edge back to form standing rim; flute with fingers. Combine egg yolks, sugar, salt and water. Add flour and butter, blending well. Add rhubarb and mix thoroughly. Turn into pie shell.

Bake in hot over (425 F.) 45 minutes, or until filling and crust are done. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add 1-3 cup cup sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended. Then continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks. Fold in coconut.

Pile lightly on filling. Sprinkle with additional coconut. Bake in hot oven (425 F.) 8 to 10 minutes, or until delicately browned.

DOUBLE DUTY KNIFE

If you have a curved blade grapefruit knife in your kitchen let it serve double duty by using it to remove the seed pods from green peppers.

TO PREVENT BREAKAGE

To prevent pottery casseroles from breakage, protect them from sudden changes in temperature.

TO PUREE FRUITS

If you want to puree fruits and vegetables use a sieve or a food mill rather than a strainer. A sieve has its wire mesh supported by crosswires and so is strong enough to stand having food forced enough to stand having food for through it; a strainer is not reinforced in this way and if foods are forced through it, the wire mesh is likely to pull away from the frame.

SPICY CRANBERRY

Spicy cranberry sauce is a delicious accompaniment to chicken or duke O.penacan ofwhole or duck. Open a can of whole cranberry sauce the night before serving and bury a two-inch stick of cinnamon and a half-dozen clove in the sauce; cover tightly and store in the refreigerator. Remove the cinnamon and cloves before serving.

Make Meat Kabobs For Saturday Party

The highlight of your Saturday night party, these kabobs will be fun to prepare and fun to eat. If served indoors, they may be done either in the oven or in the broiler.

Outdoors they fit over a grill or a grate; or when strung on long forks may be held over an open camp fire by your guests. They're designed to appeal to the crowd.

Meat Ball Kabobs

- ¾ cup quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked
- 1½ lbs. ground beef
- 2 eggs, beaten
- ¼ cup finely chopped onion
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup tomato juice
- 12 medium, cooked carrots (cut in 1-inch pieces), 18 tiny cooked potatoes

Combine all ingredients for meat balls. Shape into 36 balls, approximately one inch in diameter. Place in a shallow baking pan; pour melted shortening or bacon drippings over meat balls to a depth of ¼ inch in the pan.

Bake 15 to 20 minutes in a moderate over (350 F.). Pour off fat and save for later use. Let meat balls cool.

When meat balls are cool, string 2 meat balls, 2 pieces of cooked carrot and a cooked potato on each metal skewer, alternating the three. Brush with melted shortening on all sides.

Bake in a moderate oven in a flat baking pan (350 F.) 15 to 20 minutes turning once during baking, or broil on each side 5 minutes or until brown. Makes 18 kabobs.

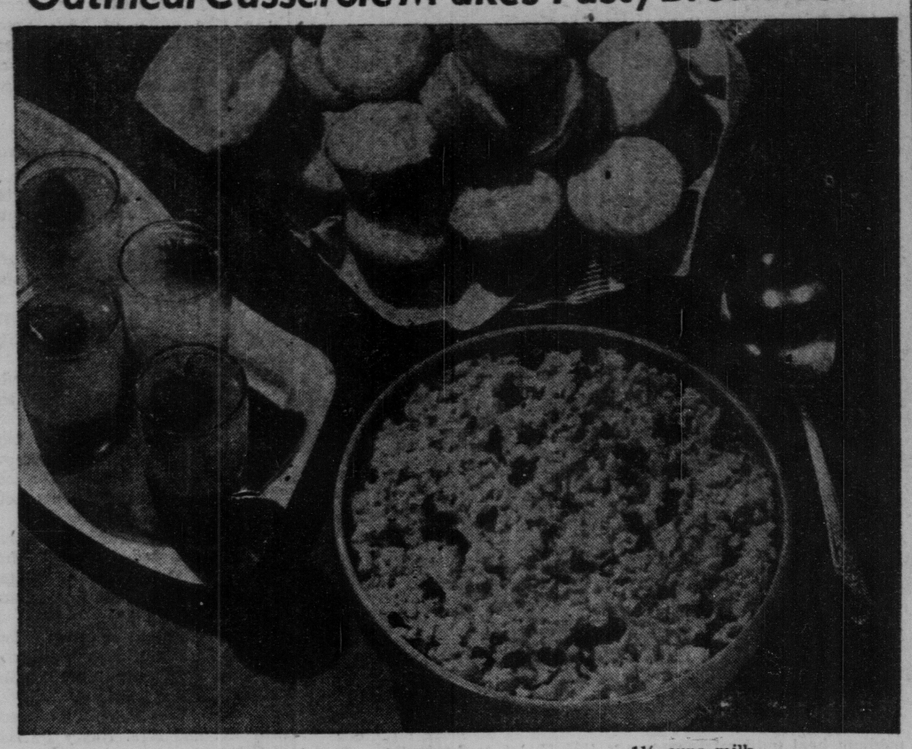
QUICK FISH SAUCE

Want a quick sauce for fish? Heat undiluted condensed tomato soup and then stir in a tablespoon of prepared horseradish and a quarter cup of finely-diced green pepper before serving.

TOPPING FOR MUFFINS

Next time you make plain muffins sprinkle the tops, before baking, with a mixture of three tablespoons of sugar and one teaspoon enough topping for a standard two-cup flour recipe.

Oatmeal Casserole Makes Tasty Breakfast



Sunday breakfasts are special and your family will agree that you've used some clever tricks to make this one a standout. It takes only about 90 minutes to prepare the oatmeal raisin casserole and jam surprise muffins but your family will be singing your praise for Sundays to come.

Oatmeal Raisin Casserole

- 1½ cups quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup raisins
- 3 cups boiling water

Place rolled oats, salt and raisins in a casserole. Add boiling water; cover and bake in a moderate over (350 F.) 15 minutes for quick oats, 20 minutes for other. Makes 4 servings.

The casserole may be baked at 425 F. at the same time as the muffins and may be baked until the muffins are done without harming the oatmeal.

Jam Surprise Muffins

- ¼ cup sugar
- 2 cups ready-mix for pancakes
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1½ cups milk
- 2 tablespoons cooking oil or melted shortening
- 1-3 cup thick jam

Add sugar to pancake ready-mix and stir to blend. Combine egg, milk and cooking oil; add all at once to ready-mix, stirring lightly to mix. Batter should be slightly lumpy. Fill greased muffin pans half full with batter (¼ cup batter for large muffin pans).

Drop a teaspoon of jam on top of each unbaked muffin. Bake in a hot oven (425 F.) 15 to 20 minutes or until brown. Let stand a few minutes before removing from pan. Makes 12 to 18 muffins.

Rice 'n Cabbage Is Wonderful Dish

Satisfying rice compliments the crispness of the delicious green cabbage in this irresistible dish of rice and creole cabbage. The tomatoes add wonderful color and flavor, and the seasonings are "just right."

All told, this superbly delicious main dish, with chewy cubes of browned pork, is a sure bet to silence the table conversation until second helpings are demanded.

Rice and Creole Cabbage

- 3 cups hot cooked rice
- 2 port chops, cut in ½-inch cubes (or ¾ cup cooked meat)
- 1 cup onions, chopped
- 1 No. 2½ can tomatoes
- 6 cups green cabbage, shredded
- ½ cup canned mushrooms sliced
- 2 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ teaspoon chili powder

Brown meat in a skillet. Continue cooking until meat is done. Enough fat should cook out of the meat so that it is not necessary to add additional fat to the skillet. Add onions and some of the juice from the tomatoes and cook until onions are tender. Add tomatoes, cabbage, mushrooms, salt, pepper and chili powder.

Cover skillet and cook only until cabbage is tender. Do not overcook. Cabbage should retain its green color. If there is not enough juice for the tomatoes to prevent the mixture from sticking, add a small amount of water. Spread cooked rice on a platter. Serve cabbage over the rice.

Deviled eggs are an ideal accompaniment to be served with the rice and creole cabbage.

Happy Birthdays For The Nation

Never in the nation's history has it been safer for babies to be born. Happiest news of this week is the continuing decline in infant mortality. It has dropped for 15 consecutive years, reports the National Office of Vital Statistics. Only 28.8 babies were lost from each 1000 born alive last year, despite a peak record (estimated) of 3,833,000 newcomers. The 1950 infant mortality rate was 29.2.

But in 1940, the loss was 47.4 babies among each 1000 born alive, and only two decades back, in 1930, the startling rate was 64.8 or more than double today's infant deaths. In the words of Dr. Louis I. Dublin, who has compiled "The Facts of Life From Birth to Death," from Metropolitan Life Insurance statistics: "In all, the steady improvement in infant health since 1940 has resulted in saving the lives of 425,000 babies during the decade."

The understanding of nutrition has contributed to this new safety record. The right food pattern is now mapped out months before baby is born. Yes, mothers are still "eating for two," but eating more intelligently with stress on proper building foods. Fewer sweets on tre program, plenty of milk and milk drinks, fresh fruits, fruit juices, cottage cheese.

As soon as baby is ready to graduate from liquid living, he too gets a blueprint menu that reflects advanced thinking and scientific development of foods tailored to the precise needs of growing bodies. As a starter on his variety program are special cereals, to be stirred smooth in milk or formula, then will come meats, soups, fruits, desserts, and a little later the junior foods.

For the High Chair Dinner:

Scrambled Eggs With Vegetables

2 eggs
1 tablespoons evaporated milk or cream
½ can (4½-ounce) strained mixed vagetables,
Salt
1 tablespoon butter or fortified margarine

Beat eggs, add milk or cream, strained mixed vegetables and salt. Melt butter or margarine in a small frying pan. Pour egg mixture into frying pan and cook over low heat, stirring until a soft creamy consistency is obtained Serve at once. Makes 2 servings.

Gingersnap Lemon Pie Is Easy To Make

A pie that could stop the clock in any contest, this delectable and different dessert lets you out to enjoy these balmy spring days. Made with packaged products, it requires no long baking, no grating and squeezing of lemons. It's light-textured, flavor-rich and destined to be a family favorite.

Gingersnap Lemon Chiffon Pie

1 pkg. lemon pudding and pie filling mix,
1-3 cup sugar,
2 cups water,
2 egg yolks, unbeaten,
2 egg whites, unbeaten,
4 tablespoons sugar
Gingersnap pie crust.

Combine pie filling mix, 1-3 cup sugar, add ¼ cup of the water in a saucepan. Add egg yolks and blend well. Then add remaining 1¾ cups water. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil and is thickened—about 5 minutes. Remove from heat.

Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add 4 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating after each addition until sugar is blended.

Then continue beating until mixture will stand in soft peaks. Fold in hot filling. Pour into gingersnap pie crust. Spread with sweetened whipped cream on top and sprinkle with gingersnap crumbs.

Gingersnap Pie Crust: Combine 1¼ cups fine gingersnap cooky crumbs and 3 tablespoons sugar. Add ¼ cup melted butter and mix well. Press firmly on bottom and sides of 9-inch pie pan.

Chill 1 hour before filling. Or bake pie crust in moderate oven (375 F.) 5 to 8 minutes and cool before filling.

QUICK TOMATO SAUCE

To make a quick tomato sauce empty a can of tomato paste into a saucepan and stir in a paste can of water; season with salt, pepper, and any desired herbs. Add a tablespoon of butter, margarine, or bacon drippings and bring to a boil, stirring often. Use the sauce to pour over fish fillets and bake in a moderate oven until the fish flakes easily.

CHICKEN GRAVY

When you are roasting a chicken simmer the giblets and neck in a cup or two of water to which you have added a bay leaf, a few peppercorns, a small onion, a sprig of parsley, and a little salt. Use this giblet broth with which to make gravy after the chicken is roasted.

Italian Chicken A Sunday Dish

For Sunday dinner, how about a popular Italian chicken dish? They call it Pollo Cacciatore. We will call it Chicken Hunter's Style.

Chicken Hunter's Style

1 ready-to-cook chicken, 2½ to 3-pounds disjointed
½ cup olive oil, scant
1 teaspoon paprika
1 finely sliced onion
3½ cups canned tomatoes or 8 meium tomatoes
1 clove garlic
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ cup white wine, optional

Dry chicken. Cook gently in hot olive oil until well browned. Sprinkle with paprika to aid browning. Turn occasionally to brown evenly. Spoon off 2 or 3 tablespoons of oil Add onions, tomatoes, garlic, salt and pepper.

Cover tightly and simmer until chickenis tender, about ¾ of an hour. If sauce is watery, remove chicken and simmer sauce for several minutes to thicken it. Return chicken to sauce. Add wine, if desired, and heat. Remove garlic before serving. Five servings.

Another foreign chicken dish Americans like is Chicken Paprikash (Paprikahuhn).

Chicken Paprikash

1 ready-to-cook chicken, about 2½ pounds
¼ cup flour
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup fat for frying
½ cup finely chopped onion
2 to 3 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon paprika or more
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup soured cream
1 cup water
Grated rind of 1 lemon
1 tablespoon or more lemon juice

Disjoint chicken and coat with the blended flour, salt and pepper. Brown chicken in the hot fat. Add onion and water. Sprinkle chicken generously with paprika.

Cover tightly and cook gently over low heat or in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until chicken is fork-tender, 40 to 50 minutes. If necessary, add more water in tablespoon amounts to prevent sticking.

Remove chicken to serving dish and keep hot. Prepare gravy; add the flour to juices in the pan and blend thoroughly. Cook over low heat until bubbly. Add soured cream and water and cook, stirring constantly until thickened throughout.

Cover and simmer about 5 minutes. Add lemon rind and juice. Season well to taste. Serve gravy around chicken or separately.

Unless some other use is planned, flour, brown and cook giblets and neck with the chicken. For service, cut neck into 3 pieces and gizzard, heart and liver into slices. Add all to the gravy. Serves 4.

Timely Ideas For Spring Picnics

If you have an open fireplace in your back yard, or a charcoal or gasoline portable stove, now is the time to think of back yard picnics.

If the yard grill will hold a skillet, cheeseburgers of barbecued hamburger sandwiches can be prepared out of doors according to the accompanying recipes. If that is not possible, prepare them on the kitchen stove and carry the skillet to the yard picnic site, and serve the sizzling hot meats directly on the buns.

Frankfurters are roasted on skewers or sticks, split open to carry catsup or relishes, and popped into frankfurter rolls that have been toasted or heated for added good eating.

For the something sweet to end the backyard picnic, a cake (baker's or homemade) always is a favorite, and a pie a la mode is a popular item, since the refrigerator in the kitchen is only a few feet away.

Dip skewers in salad oil or run them through a garlic clove. Spear your favorite ingredients for a kabob sandwich from the following assorment: tiny whole tomatoes, boiled new potatoes, cured ham cubes, mushroom caps, dill pickle chunks, precooked or raw small white onions and beef cubes. Broil quickly. Slide meat off skewers into hollowed-out buns. Serve with catsup and mustard. Other kabob ingredients which could be used are pineapple chunks frankfurter chunks, sausages, cubes of lamb, whole shrimp or bacon cubes.

Three cups (1½ pounds) ham- 6 slices processed American Combine hamburger, salt and pepper. Shape into 6 meat patties. Brown on both sides in a hot greased skillet. Place one slice cheese on each meat patty and grill until cheese begins to melt. 6 cheeseburgers.

Barbecued Hamburger Sandwich

3 cups (1½ pounds) hamburger
1½ teaspoons salt
⅜ cup finely chopped onion
¾ cup finely chopped celery
1½ tablespoons barbecue sauce
1½ cups chili sauce
6 hamburger buns.

Combine hamburger, salt, onion and celery. Brown in a hot skillet. Add b arbecue sauce and chili sauce and simmer for 30 minutes. Cut hamburger buns in half and place 1-3 cup barbecued hamburger in each bun. Six sandwiches.

WALNUT FUDGE DROPS

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
¼ cup corn syrup
½ cup milk
¼ cup butter (melted)
1½ squares (1½ ounces) unsweetened chocolate (melted)
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped vacuum-packed black walnuts.

Mix together sugars, syrup and milk; bring to a boil. Add melted butter and chocolate. Boil about 5 minutes over moderate heat or until a small amount forms a soft ball when dropped into cold water (234F. to 240F.). Cool until bottom of pan is lukewarm. Add vanilla and black walnuts.

Beat until creamy and drop by spoonfuls on waxed paper or spread on buttered dish and cut into squares when cool. Makes about 60 one-inch squares. If in dropping from spoon, fudge seems to harden too quickly, a teaspoon or two of cream may be added to thin it enough to work with.

FOR SALAD

Good way to use up leftover cooked green peas or snap beans: add to a salad of shredded cabbage.

Grandma's Cookies

Have you been wondering what has become of the big, fat, soft molasses cookies that Grandma made? Well, the recipe's been resurrected and revised to meet modern cooking techniques but the flavor's still the same old-fashioned rich-tasting one that made Grandma famous. You'll want to double the recipe to meet the demands you'll get for these cookies.

GRANDMA'S SOFT MOLASSES COOKIES

7 cups sifted enriched flour
4 teaspoons soda
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon ginger
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1½ teaspoon cloves
1 cup shortening, melted
1 1-3 cups sugar
2 cups unsulpured molasses
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 eggs
¾ cup milk
seeded raisins

Sift together first 6 ingredients. Melt shortening in a saucepan large enough for mixing cookies. Stir in sugar, molasses and vinegar. Beat in eggs. Add flour mixture alternately with milk.

Chill about 30 minutes, which is important for best results. Drop dough onto lightly greased cooky sheets. Top each cooky with a big fat raisin. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in a preheated hot oven (400 F.). Yields 7 to 8 dozen cookies.

Cheese Bread Treat Good With Coffee

You don't need an "occasion" o serve this luscious loaf. All you need is a big pot of freshly-made coffee to go with this cheese bread and an admiring family to share this goodness with you.

You'll find it a delight, too, because it's made so easily, slices beautifully and keeps well.

Cheese Bread

¾ cup boiling water
½ cup seedless raisins
1¾ cups sifted, enriched flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
¾ cup sugar
¾ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese

Pour boiling water over raisins; let stand 5 minuutes. Meanwhile mix and sift flour, salt, baking soda and sugar. Add raisins and water; mix well. Add egg and cheese; beat well.

Bake in greased 8-inch tube pan (plain or Turk's Head) in moderate oven, 350 F., 50 minutes.

NEW YORK (AP)—How much real democracy is there among dog lovers?

Quite a bit, according to Bartender Bill O'Brien, who forked over $50 to a customer for a puppy that looked like a four-legged gray mop and has turned out to be a blue ribbon show dog.

I have written about Bill before. He's a big ex-Army sergeant who blew the alarm bugle at Pearl Harbor.

O'Brien is night maestro at Moriarty's Midtown Bar and Grill, an establishment two doors from Toot Shor's that has become a rendezvous for newspapermen, dancers, singers, actors, and musicians.

One of his customers was Pat Hanrahan, an NBC electrician who often brought in one or two of the schnauzer dogs he raises as a sideline.

"I just got dog hungry looking at them," confessed Bill. He finally bought a male pup from Pat for $50 and figured it was a real bargain as schnauzers, a king of long-haired German terrier, are growing in popularity in America and easily bring $75 to $125.

The eight-week-old ugly puppy looked like a handful of dirty strings with bright eyes. Bill named him Mike Murphy.

"He grew so fast he was getting bow-legged and down in the hocks, so I began stuffing him with calcium pills," said Bill.

"But he had lots of spirit — he was no deadhead."

Mike Murphy perked up so fast, showed such carriage, that dog-wise customers at the bar urged Bill to enter him in a dog show. At first O'Brien held off, thinking that such honors were for the pets of millionaires rather than bartenders.

But he finally decided Mike Murphy ought to have his chance in the world. He paid a professional handler a small sum to give him a week's training. Mike was entered in the Westminster Kennel Club show in Madison Square Garden last February, which is the world series of dogdom.

Mike Murphy, only eight months' old and still really a puppy, strutted out to win the first prize for American - bred standard Schnauzers.

Overwhelmed by this victory, Bill entered Mike soon after in another top-flight metropolitan canine show. But Mike, still growing fast, had become underweight for his size. He placed fourth.

That has put Bill in a spot. He figures he let his dog down by entering him too soon in his second show, but he doesn't want to turn Mike over to trainers who see him as a potential best - of - breed champion.

"I'd like to see him win another blue ribbon," Bill said, "just to make it up to him — to see he gets a square deal.

"But the handlers say they want a month to train him for his next show. Well, schnauzers are supposed to be one-man dogs, but Mike is friendly to everybody.

"If he is gone a month, he will no longer be my dog. It would be like giving up your own baby."

Bill feeds Mike table scraps, kennel rations and soft-boiled eggs —cooked exactly three minutes, the way Mike prefers them. Every day Bill walks four flights down from his Bronx apartment to exercise Mike by unleashing him and letting him race the New York Central commuter trains into Manhattan.

"The express trains speed right on by," said Bill. "But Mike gets a big thrill out of catching up to a local train that stops at the station. He runs up and barks at it, and I am sure he feels he has run it clear out of breath all by himself."

O'Brien doesn't want to kick his dog around, but he doesn't want to lose Mike by glamorizing him into a professional canine prize-winner.

"After all, he's my dog," said Bill. "I don't want to turn him into a child star. I'd like to keep him unspoiled."

OPS Sues Alliance Firm For $146,166

CLEVELAND (AP) — The government sued the United Co-operatives, Inc. of 243 Main St., Alliance, O. for $146,166 today, claiming it sold Mexican baler and binder twice at over-ceiling prices.

United, one of the largest farm co-operatives in the country, sold most of this twine, used chiefly for tying grain, to farm bureaus, the Office of Price Administration office here contended.

The figure in the suit, filed by OPS, is for treble damages. The suit, which also asked federal court for an injunction against further alleged overcharges, claimed overcharges of $48,722 from May through September, 1951.

East Liverpool Driver Hurt As Truck Upsets

LISBON—Don McKinnon, 21, of East Liverpool received minor injuries when a truck he was operating turned over at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday on Route 45, two miles north of Wellsville.

Deputy Sheriff Al Hartman said McKinnon, driving a truck owned by Harm Moore of Wellsville, lost control of the vehicle. He was treated at East Liverpool City Hospital for abrasions and contusions.

CHILD ACCIDENTALLY HANGS

NEW LONDON, O. (AP) — Huron County Coroner Charles Edell today investigated the death by hanging of Paul Ward, 9. Graydon Ward, father of the boy, found him hanging from a beam in his barn near here Tuesday night. He said he believed the boy died accidentally while playing.
